2500 CIVILIANS ARE MASSACRED

Slain Upon Orders From Bolshevik Commissions at Berdiank

Two Russian Soviet Regiments Surrender to Wrangel—Army Breaking Up

SEBASTOPOL, Oct. 15. (By Associated Press.)—Following the defeat of soviet forces by Gen. Wrangel's army at Simferopol, two soviet regiments stationed in the village of Ribasko, held a meeting and decided to surrender, according to an official report. They took this action in view of the fact that they were without food, shoes and clothing. Bolshevik authorities are reported to no longer conceal the fact that their army is dissolving and that a winter campaign is impossible under present conditions. Twenty-five hundred soviet prisoners were massacred upon orders from five different commissions during the last days of the Bolshevik occupation of Berdiank, on the northern coast of the Sea of Azov, according to advices. It is said that to be arrested was tantamount to a death sentence, either by starvation, disease or the pistol. Prisoners are reported to have been made to dig up the bodies of the Bolsheviks carried off all valuables, even taking dresses and bed coverings from women prisoners.

FINED FOR RECEIVING STOLEN PROPERTY

For receiving 57 yards of cotton cloth valued at 32 cents per yard and also a spoon of yarn valued at $2, alleged to have been stolen from the Massachusetts cotton mills, Angelina Buckowicz, an employee of the cardboard, pleaded guilty and was ordered to pay a fine of $5 in police court this morning. Victor Noyes, prosecuting officer, did not press the case for a heavy penalty because of the circumstances, but reported to the court that the officials of the mill have been troubled recently with petty thefts of cloth and yarn. The complaint was originally for larceny, but when the court learned that the defendant received the goods from another employee of the same room in the mill who has since left this country, it was changed to receiving stolen goods, to which the defendant entered a plea of guilty. Mr. O. H. Webster, assistant superintendent of the mills, was in court to identify the cloth and yarn.

Other offenders
Louis Tremblay was fined $5 for being present at a game on the Lord's day on Tilden street.

Victor Bouchalaya entered a plea of guilty to carrying a revolver without a permit, but was continued until next Wednesday when the person from whom he bought the weapon will be called.

Charles Costas, charged with illegal sale of intoxicating liquor and with assault upon a police officer, did not appear in court to answer to the complaint and Assistant Clerk Toye declared him defaulted. Costas was in the hospital for one or two weeks after being arrested, but he was released some time ago.

When the non-support charge against Thomas J. Keillor was called the police reported that the defendant had been surrendered to Probation Officer Ramsey of the superior court. The case was continued.

The list of drunks this morning included a large number of old offenders. Probation Officer Sherry issued tickets to several first offenders, and three of the cases called in court were placed on file.

For drunkenness Michael Burke was fined $15; Joseph Brown, now under a suspended sentence to the state farm, was fined $15. James McGrath was given a suspended sentence to the state farm and put on probation. George Savignea was fined $15. John P. Murphy was sentenced to two months in the house of correction. Coleman McGraw pleaded guilty to drunkenness and was fined $10. Margaret Bulmer pleaded guilty to drunkenness and was put on probation. Mr. John Bulmer was sentenced to the house of correction.

FIRST VOTERS HEAR NOMINEES

Gov. Cox Opens His Second Eastern Campaign With Address at Syracuse, N. Y.

"First Voters' Day" at Sen. Harding's Front Porch—Both Discuss Americanism

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Oct. 18.—Governor Cox today opened his second eastern campaign with an address here to first voters, urging them to disregard partisanship and to vote as Americans. "Americanism," he said, "is but another word for construction. Americanization is not selfishness. It means that we so love this freedom of America that wherever in the whole world the name of America is mentioned, it shall mean honor, loyalty, progress, humanity and peace. To shout 'America first' and then oppose making America first throughout the world, is to turn our backs on progress and on the ideals which the framers of our great constitution wrote into the soul of America."

"Therefore, when I talk of the League of Nations, I am presenting no new spirit, but am simply endeavoring to keep the faith of America." Stating that first voters represent a new generation, Governor Cox said that civilization was like a "relay race" each generation taking the ball from the preceding and contributing its share toward world progress.

"Some people," he said, "are not willing to take the ball, thereby losing the race by slipping back." "There can be nothing more reassuring than that this great army of first voters composed of millions of young men will approach the ballot box this fall with the same patriotism with which they stood in the front trenches. I find that the young men and mothers will insist that we become a part of the league of nations. The young men who are first voters will find themselves in distinguished company this year, for the mothers of America have been given the rights to which they are entitled. I have no doubt what the mothers will do in the forthcoming election, nor have I a single doubt what the young men will do. Mother and son link the two generations which stand for a peace won by the sons and made permanent by the mothers of America."

The governor's program included an afternoon address at Rochester and a night meeting at Buffalo. Tomorrow he goes to Boston and New Hampshire and on Wednesday to Rhode Island and Connecticut.

At Front Porch
NARION, Ohio, Oct. 18.—First voters' day at Senator Harding's front porch brought to Marion today many delegations of young men and women to hear the senator make a plea for "America first" as the motto of those about to cast their ballots for the first time.

Indiana, Michigan, Pennsylvania, West Virginia and Ohio sent the largest representation although citizens from many other states were present. Several special trains brought delegations from outside Ohio and many from the cities nearby came by motor. A bicycle division also was one of the features of the parade which preceded the senator's speech.

The Ohio contingents were to have been received tomorrow, but the two meetings were combined in order to give the nominees one day of rest before he leaves Wednesday for his last speaking trip of the campaign.

COOLIDGE IN SOUTH

ON BOARD GOVERNOR COOLIDGE'S SPECIAL TRAIN, Oct. 18.—The special train bearing Governor Coolidge and other republican leaders for a week's tour of border and southern states, arrived in Virginia and part of West Virginia last night and early today struck into Kentucky where two days will be spent in campaigning from the rear platform and at town meetings.

AMERICAN DIES OF TYPHUS IN RUSSIA

PORTLAND, Ore., Oct. 18.—John Reed, magazine writer, died yesterday in Moscow, Russia, of typhus, according to a telegram received here by Henry G. Reed, a brother, from Louis Bryant, Reed's widow.

Reed had made several visits to Russia during the soviet regime. Since his latest departure from this country last year, relatives here had received various conflicting reports regarding him. One was that he had been executed in Finland as a soviet emissary, and another that he had been imprisoned in Russia.

CLAIMS AUNT STARVED SELF

Testimony in Superior Court Regarding Strange Life of Aged Centralville Woman

Witness Says She Lived on Bread and Water With Money in Bank

Remarkable testimony was given in superior court today regarding the alleged eccentricities of an aged Centralville woman, who, it was alleged, had lived in a single small, smoke-filled room, subsisting on bread and water, while there reposed in a trunk belonging to her bank books representing considerable sums on deposit in Lowell savings banks. The woman, Miss Catherine J. McShea, died April 28, 1919, when over 80 years old, in St. John's hospital, as the result of a fall. The testimony was given in a suit in equity brought by Richard Brabrook Walsh, administrator, against Misses Susie G. Cook of Lowell and Florence G. Cook of Salem, nieces of the deceased. It is alleged in the bill of complaint that the defendants secured the transfer of bank accounts of the deceased to their possession by the use of undue influence, and that the aged woman was of unsound mind at the time the transfers were made shortly before her death.

The bank books were issued by the Lowell Five Cents Savings Bank for $125.10. Lowell Institution for Savings for $102.50 and the City Institution for Savings for $102.50. The complainant asks for an order from the court compelling the defendants to pay over moneys in their hands and the costs of the suit, and it is left to the jury to determine the issue of fact as to whether the deceased was of unsound mind at the time the transfer was made and whether undue influence was used.

The attorney for the complainant is Fred S. Harvey. The defendants are represented by P. H. Pearson of Lowell and Michael L. Sullivan of Salem.

Was Near Neighbor
Mrs. May M. Frazer, 42 Third street, said that she lived next door to the residence where Catherine J. McShea had a room. She told of a fall sustained by the deceased about April 3, 1919, and that she wanted a nephew, John McShea, of West Third street, summoned. Witness said that Mr. McShea assisted in caring for the injured woman and procured food for her.

Mrs. Frazer told of visiting Miss McShea after she had been taken to the hospital. She said that she saw the sick woman take keys from around her neck and give them to Mrs. Margaret Cady, who was with her and that Miss McShea said to Mrs. Cady, "You keep the keys, don't give them to anybody."

The witness said she considered Miss McShea eccentric, and an old-fashioned hat on the back of her head and full skirts. Sometimes she went bare headed.

A witness said that Miss McShea asserted that she did not want to see the Cooks.

Cross-examined by Mr. Sullivan, the witness said that she had not heard the deceased mention the name of John McShea previous to the accident.

Sign of Peculiarity
"Do you consider it a sign of peculiarity for women to wear colors?" asked Mr. Sullivan.

"Yes."
"How many colors do you have on?" "Three; it depends on how you wear them, whether it is peculiar."

"You have had your hat on the back of your head?"
"Yes. If the wind blew it there."

The witness said she thought it strange that Miss McShea wore such full skirts. She admitted, in reply to a question, that she would not expect a woman 80 years old to wear hobble skirts.

Mrs. Frazer said that after the accident Miss McShea said she wondered why the Cook girls didn't come to see her and then exclaimed, "I don't want to see them."

The witness said that she visited Miss McShea at the hospital and that the sick woman failed to recognize her and that she raved about the keys to her trunk.

John McShea, of West Third street, a nephew of the deceased, said his aunt lived in a small inconvenient room, with one window; that the room was filled with smoke all the time. She lived wholly on bread and water, the witness said.

Mr. McShea said that his aunt complained of being left alone, and that no one came near her, but that she didn't want to see the Cooks. He said that sometimes she "hollered all night."

Aunt Dressed Oddly

The witness said his aunt dressed oddly and that sometimes she wore a hat and sometimes did not. He said she nearly always carried an umbrella and that she seldom put it up when it was raining. She wore a red sateen around her waist, witness stated, and sang "foolish" songs such as "Jack and Jill" and something about hitting a husband with a roll-in-pin.

Mr. McShea said that his aunt wore one good shoe and one poor one because she had corns. He said she put

WILSON QUERIES SEN. HARDING

Asks G. O. P. Nominee if Statement Attributed to Him at St. Louis is Correct

Reported to Have Said He Was Approached by Representative of France

And Asked That U. S. Lead the Way to World Fraternity

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18.—President Wilson today addressed a letter to Senator Harding relative to the republican nominee's statement of Saturday that he had been approached "informally" by a representative of the French government, relative to a new association of nations.

Quoting from a despatch dated St. Louis, Oct. 16, purporting to report the statement of Senator Harding, the president said:

"I need not point out to you the grave and extraordinary inference to be drawn from such a statement, namely, that the government of France, which is a member of the League of Nations, approached a private citizen of a nation which is not a member of the league, with a request 'that the United States lead the way to a world fraternity.'"

Declaring that the state department "had always found the government of France most honorably mindful of its international obligations and punctiliously careful to observe all the proprieties of international intercourse," the president wrote that he hesitated "to draw the inference to which I have referred unless I am assured by you that you actually made the statement."

lemon pie, soap and sugar and lemon juice on her corns to cure them. The witness said Miss McShea had had weak spells for five years and that she had told of falling on the street and being picked-up by children.

Cross-examined by Mr. Sullivan, witness said that he had not worked for several years and had seen his aunt once or twice a day. He said he didn't know whether his aunt was in want as she was very secret about money matters. "Sometimes she said she had money and sometimes that she had not," witness said.

"Knowing that your aunt was living on bread and water, did you do anything to provide more food for her?" asked Mr. Sullivan.

"Yes. I bought her bread and milk." "Who furnished the money?" "She did."

Kept Her Umbrella

The witness said that his aunt always kept her umbrella in her hand while visiting in his home and that she kept it near her while eating at the table.

The witness denied that he had told the Cooks he would not be responsible for the care of his aunt's sickle and funeral expenses to her death. He said he offered to pay his share of such expenditures.

Mr. McShea said that when he visited his aunt at the hospital she hollered that she wanted to get out and that when he remonstrated with her she told him everyone hollered all night and she wanted to go home. To the sick woman, the witness said, he left the room. He said that he did not hear his aunt say anything about keys to a trunk or about bank books or money. He asserted that the Cooks had said that their aunt was so disgraced they didn't want her to visit them. He said that some representative of his family was with Miss McShea most of the time she was in the hospital.

Asa W. Flint, assistant treasurer of the City Institution for Savings, gave testimony regarding the bank account of Miss McShea.

Story of the Keys

Mrs. Margaret Cady told of visiting Miss McShea on the evening of the day when she fell and that she asked her if she didn't wish to see the Cook girls and that Miss McShea said she didn't want to see them and that they wouldn't do anything for her.

The witness said that previous to going to the hospital Miss McShea gave her some keys and told her to keep them until she returned home.

The witness said that she did not wish to take the keys, but did so because Miss McShea refused to go to the hospital unless she did so. Later when Miss McShea was in the hospital she insisted again that she should keep the keys.

ARGUMENTS IN BROWN TRIAL

Judge Abbott Makes Dramatic Appeal for Man Accused of Murder

Says He Was Driven Insane for Time by Discovery of Wife's Unfaithfulness

OSSEPEE, N. H., Oct. 18.—George Brown, who is on trial for the murder of Richard Dunn at Sandwich, on Feb. 9, was pictured in this city, Lawrence, Haverhill, Salem, Peabody and Lynn interested and it is expected each city will put out a strong team. If the league is organized, as no doubt it will be, for members of the various departments are greatly interested in the movement, it is probable that the two local teams, the first shift and the second shift, will be merged into one, the best talent to be taken from both aggregations to form what will be considered one of the strongest teams in the circuit. In other cities the fire department baseball teams are under the personal direction of a district chief and it is probable that one of the local district chiefs may take up the direction of the Lowell aggregation.

Commissioner Salmon of this city as well as the fire commissioner of Salem have announced that they will give trophies to be contested for by the league teams and this announcement is sure to bring forth similar offers from other sources. "Mr. Mullin, whose duty it is to get the baseball players together at a meeting to be held in Lawrence, stated this morning that judging from the enthusiasm already shown, he is confident a strong league will be organized and that the fans of the various cities mentioned will be given real good baseball next season."

MINE FORCE TO START ON CRUISE

Notice was received at the local navy recruiting station this morning to the effect that the active units of the mine force of the Atlantic fleet will start on an extensive cruise during January and early spring. The ships comprising the force are the U.S.S. Francisco, U.S.S. Murray, U.S.S. Mahan, U.S.S. Mallard, U.S.S. Lark. The cruise will start at Hampton Road, Va., then the units will go to Guantanamo, Cuba, thence to St. John's Antigua; Point A, Puerto Rico; Port of Spain, Trinidad; Curacao, Colon, Canal zone. The force will then join the Atlantic fleet at Balboa. Later, mining exercises and practice will be staged and at Guantanamo, Cuba, the fleet athletic finale will be staged. After the athletic events the force will steam to North River, N. Y., where the crews will be given two weeks' leave of absence.

Chief Joseph Crepeau is ready to sign up any men desirous of taking this cruise. Men upon the inactive list of the reserve force are eligible to join.

The station reports the following enlistments: Jack Russell Roberts, 411 Varum avenue, as hospital apprentice; Raymond St. Armand, 12 Meadow road, electrical school; Leslie Saunders, 11 Burrum road, Winchester, for machinist's mate.

In the drive for recruits in the Boston district during the past week or so Lowell came out on top, leading all the sub-stations of this district. Out of 15 men sent to Boston from this city, 12 were accepted for service.

GETS PERMIT TO ALTER FIREHOUSE

The former Westford street firehouse at the junction of Westford and Tenth streets, which was sold by the city to Undertaker George W. Healey several months ago, is to be thoroughly remodeled by Mr. Healey at an estimated expense of $15,000, according to a permit issued today at the office of the building inspector at city hall. Additions to the front and rear of the first story of the building will be built. The first floor will be changed over for use as a chapel and undertaking rooms and in the rear will be a garage. The second story is to be made over into two tenements of five rooms each with baths. Each will have side and rear exits.

IRISH HUNGER STRIKER DIES AFTER 68-DAY FAST

CORK, Oct. 18. (By the Associated Press.)—The first death among the hunger strikers in Cork fell occurred last night. Fitzgerald died at 9.15 o'clock, having fasted 68 days. The condition of Fitzgerald and Murphy had become so serious yesterday that with the consent of the other hunger strikers the prison doctors were permitted to give Fitzgerald medical treatment. A Cork specialist also was called in. Fitzgerald was placed under arrest for shooting Private Jones outside Parnassus church on Sept. 7, 1919. Fitzgerald was one of the 11 men on a hunger strike in the Cork jail whose cases for a long time have been the source of interest on the part of the medical authorities. Nearly a month ago Dr. Pearson and Dr. Battiscombe, the jail physicians expressed profound amazement that the men who were abstaining from food were still alive. At that time, the physicians said that except for the devotion and care of the nuns in attendance upon the prisoners, it was certain that several of them would long since have been dead. All the hunger strikers were reduced to a severe degree of emaciation.

Two Killed in Rioting.
BELFAST, Oct. 18.—Two deaths occurred yesterday as a result of the rioting in the Morrowbone district of North Belfast, Saturday night. The victims were Matthew McMaster and William Mitchell, who succumbed to gunshot wounds. One man was killed outright during the rioting and several others were seriously injured.

Sergeant Shot Dead.
DUBLIN, Oct. 18.—Sergeant Roche of the Royal Irish constabulary, who had just arrived here from Tipperary to identify the body of Mr. Tracey, who was shot during the disturbances in Talbot street, Friday, was shot dead yesterday afternoon on the Ormond quay. A man and a girl also were wounded by the shots of his assailants.

A former soldier named Robinson who was shot Friday night in Dublin by two men describing themselves as republican police, died last night.

PREDICTS WAR WITH U. S.
WITH IRELAND FREE
DUNDEE, Scotland, Oct. 17.—Danger of embroilment with the United States if the north and south of Ireland were left to fight out their own differences was predicted by Winston Spencer Churchill, the secretary for war, in his speech last night in which he referred at length to the Irish situation.

Mr. Churchill, after asserting that such a course would lead to civil war "on such an organized scale that it would be disastrous and more terrible than could be imagined," declared that it would mean that in England sympathy would develop in favor of Ulster.

Influential persons in the United States, he said, sympathized with the south of Ireland, and while volunteers would leave England for the north of Ireland, reinforcements would come from the United States for the south-west.

That, added the war secretary, would create such tension that Great Britain would be faced with the greatest danger it could be confronted with, namely, a quarrel with the United States.

"Two or three years more of what we are going through," he said, "appears better to me than that we should leave Ireland to herself and thus open the floodgates of organized war, and later embroil us with the United States."

Mr. Churchill previously in his speech had declared that the reign of terror in Ireland would be suppressed and that it would then be time for a complete settlement of the Irish question.

The world's production of coal is estimated by the United States Geological survey as 1,170,000,000 metric tons in 1919 (metric ton of 2,204 pounds), as compared with 1,332,000,000 metric tons in 1913.

CANT Express Her Gratitude.
Fall River Woman Says She is Just Like a New Person Since Taking Tanlac.

"Words simply can't express the suffering I went through, neither can they express my gratitude for the wonderful relief Tanlac has given me," declared Mrs. John Entwistle, of 35 Horton Street, Fall River, Mass., who has resided in that city for the past seventeen years.

"For four years I suffered dreadfully. I didn't have any appetite, and just the slightest of food nauseated me. No matter how careful I was, the little I ate bloated me up with gas which pressed up against my heart, causing terrible knife-like pains, making me think I had heart trouble."

"My kidneys bothered me a great deal, and when I would bend over I had such awful catches in my back that it simply seemed like it would break in two. I had terrible dizzy spells, and was so nervous and restless I didn't know what it was to get a good night's sleep. I would get up in the morning feeling worse than when I went to bed, and was forced to neglect a large part of my housework. I became very much discouraged over my failure to find something that would help me."

"A lady at New Bedford told me that Tanlac had made a new woman out of her, and made me promise to try it, although I had little faith in it helping me. I never was so surprised, for although it's only a little while since I started on the medicine, I've gotten rid of that stomach trouble and nervousness. My kidneys no longer bother me, and I'm free from bloating and those awful pains around my heart and in my back. I sleep like a child every night, and simply feel like a new woman. I'm going to take a little more Tanlac just to make sure of my present good health, and I wish every sick person in the world knew about the medicine."

Tanlac is sold in Lowell by Greens drug store, Merrimack square, under the personal direction of a special Tanlac representative and by the leading druggist in every town.—Adv.

FIRE AUTO KILLS TWO

Apparatus Crashes Through Building in Brockton—Girl May Die

BROCKTON, Oct. 18.—Two men were killed, a girl was probably fatally injured and four other persons were seriously hurt late yesterday when a motor combination crashed into a store front when responding to a fire alarm. The men killed were William J. Sullivan, 45 years of age, and John Johnson, 18.

Miss Esther Bergman was in a critical condition last night at a hospital. Patrolman Frank S. Bonney and three firemen also were taken to the hospital.

The accident happened when Frank Gaffney, driver of the apparatus, attempted to turn from North Main st. into Ames street. It is alleged that he made the turn too short, and that the truck went up on the sidewalk.

Sullivan and Johnson, who were standing in front of the store, were crushed. The truck smashed right through the front of the building, ran the length of the store and broke through the rear wall.

Miss Bergman was standing with Johnson. Patrolman Bonney was engaged in pushing the crowd back and the three firemen were on the truck. Gaffney was only slightly hurt.

AMERICAN RED CROSS ROLL CALL

The annual American Red Cross roll call, designed to enlist members in that society, will open in Lowell on Armistice day, Nov. 11, and continue through the month of November. Fred F. Hayward, who was prominent in various drives held here during the war, will be chairman of the campaign and George A. Stewart, another experienced campaigner in such work, will be assistant chairman.

Mrs. J. K. Whittier will be in charge of supplies for the campaign, such as posters, buttons and other materials. Headquarters of the campaign will be in the office of the North Middlesex Chapter, Red Cross, at 51 Merrimack street. Robert F. Marden, president of the chapter, has sent out letters to all former Red Cross campaigners, asking them to assist in the 1920 drive.

As a preliminary to the roll call, the New England division of the Red Cross is to hold a general meeting at Edison hall in Kirk street, this city, at 2.30 p. m., Oct. 27. Various officials of the organization from this state and New Hampshire will speak.

Daily luncheons which were a feature of Red Cross and similar campaigns during the war will be eliminated in this year's drive and workers will simply report results to George R. Chandler, treasurer of the campaign, at the Union bank, or to the Red Cross headquarters at 81 Merrimack street. Only one luncheon will be held—that at the wind-up of the drive. The managers are anxious to have the campaign as simple as possible.

Despite the fact that the war has ceased, the Red Cross is still as active as ever in reconstruction work and as in the past, its endeavors are limited only by the strength of its membership. Hence, an appeal will be made to have every man, woman and child in North Middlesex county join the ranks after the campaign opens Nov. 11.

Don't Prod Your Liver to Action

NR Overcomes Bilelessness, Constipation, Sick Headache, Quickly, No Gripping or Pain. Guaranteed.

The organs of digestion, assimilation and elimination—the stomach, liver and bowels—are closely allied, and the proper action of any of these organs is largely dependent upon the correct functioning of all the others. "Whipping" your liver into action with calomel or forcing your bowels with irritating laxatives or strong cathartics is a great mistake. A better safer plan is strengthening and quickly relieving sick headache, indigestion, constipation and biliousness, corrects constipation and quickly relieves sick headache. Get your system thoroughly cleansed and purified for once; stomach, liver and bowels working together in vigorous harmony; and you will not have to take medicine every day—just take one NR Tablet occasionally to keep your system in good condition and always feel your best. Remember it is easier and cheaper to keep well than it is to get well. Get a 25c box and try it with the understanding that it must give you greater relief and benefit than any bowel or liver medicine you ever used or no pay. Nature's Remedy (NR Tablets) is sold, guaranteed and recommended by your druggist.

CELTIC FOLK MUSIC

Fine Lecture and Recital by
Benedict Fitzgerald

The League of Catholic Women formally opened its 1920-21 season yesterday afternoon in Lincoln hall with a splendid lecture and recital of Celtic folk music, given by Benedict Fitzgerald, assisted by Mrs. Morris Berenson of Boston. Mr. Fitzgerald is a student of the history and construction of music and has delved deeply into the lore of Celtic melodies. Mrs. Berenson recently returned from Italy where she has been studying.

A capacity attendance marked the opening meeting. The president, Miss Alice T. Lee, presided. After the singing of Cardinal O'Connell's hymn to the Blessed Virgin, Rev. Joseph A. Curtin, spiritual director of the organization, gave the invocation. Miss Lee announced the death of several valued members of the league, Mrs. Katherine Kane and Mrs. William Doherty. Just before the meeting was notified of the death of Miss Katherine Kelley, a charter member of the organization, who had served on many committees and shared in every activity. In the league office is a large steel engraving, the gift of Miss Kelley. Prayers were then offered for the deceased members.

Miss Lee spoke of the organization of the various standing committees and told of their plans for the season, as follows:

Membership: Miss Mary Wood, chairman.

House: Mrs. George Allard, chairman.

Finance: Mrs. John Saunders, chairman.

Program: Mrs. John T. Donohue, chairman.

Mrs. Donohue has not yet completed her program for the year. It will be announced at the next meeting.

Will speak on "Katherine of Arragon." A special musical program will precede the lecture.

Civics: Miss Mary Lane, chairman.

Hood's
Sarsaparilla
Makes Food
Taste Good

Creates an appetite, aids digestion, purifies the blood, and thus relieves acrofula, catarrh, the pains and aches of rheumatism and gives strength to the whole system.

Nearly 50 years' phenomenal sales tell the story of the great merit and success of Hood's Sarsaparilla. It is just the medicine you need now. Hood's Pills help—fine cathartic.

Class meetings will be held twice a month at the league office at 4.30 sharp at which there will be talks on topics concerning city, state and nation. Visits to the state house when general court is in session are also planned. Evening classes for those who desire lessons in citizenship are also to be formed. A sub-committee on legislation, Mrs. Charles Devine, chairman, will keep the class informed as to bills before congress and the state legislature. The first meeting of the Margaret Brent civics class will be held Thursday, Oct. 21, at 4.30 p. m. Joseph P. Donohue will address the meeting on national problems.

Educational: Miss Grace C. Delany, chairman. This committee has compiled a number of familiar hymns as well as a number of new ones and is now negotiating to have them printed in booklet form. It will be known as the League Hymnal and will supplement the cardinal's hymn book already in use. Miss Delany has also perfected the organization of classes in home nursing, cooking, dressmaking and millinery. A Christmas gift class is also to be organized for charitable purposes.

Social Service: Mrs. David Mahoney, chairman. One afternoon a week will be devoted to sewing for institutions or individuals. A bureau of information will also be conducted by this committee.

The Junior dramatic club organized for the presentation of children's play, will continue its work this year. The orchestra will again be under the direction of Miss Marie J. O'Donnell and will appear at the next meeting. New members are cordially invited to join. Mr. J. A. Handley is again in charge of the mandolin club and rehearsals are now in progress. Mrs. Joseph Grady will be the league community singing leader.

In order that the members may become acquainted with each other, a series of socials is planned to be held under the direction of Mrs. J. Rediker. The first will take place in Bagley hall, Harrington building, October 27.

Mr. Fitzgerald treated the subject of Celtic music in an exhaustive manner after he had been introduced. He said that the Celts were noted as excellent harpists years before Christ. One authority says that they had the diatonic scale, supposed to have been discovered by the Italians in the fifth century. The secret of the charm of Celtic music, however, he said, lay in the fact that most of it was based on the pentatonic scale. He said that there are three kinds of Celtic music—sleep-producing, mirth-provoking and tear-inducing. He illustrated each type with selections assisted by Mrs. Berenson.

The speaker traced the development of Celtic music through the Elizabethan period and illustrated on the piano how the work of Beethoven in some instances is based on Irish airs. He spoke of the work of Thomas Moore and said that if he had kept the old Irish music and used his words with it, the result would have been wonderful, but Moore insisted on changing the airs. Mr. Fitzgerald pointed out how modern composers were influenced by the old Celtic airs. Mrs. Berenson was delighted in the series of selections she gave to illustrate the speaker's points.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

By Theatres' Own Press Agents

THE STRAND

Eugene O'Brien, one of the prime favorites of the screen, will be seen in "The Wonderful Chance" at the Strand for the first three days of the week, starting with matinee today. This play is a wonderfully interesting crook story, in which the star portrays the role of "Swagger" Barlow, an evil-doer, who decides to go straight. After he decided to change his mode of livelihood the opportunity presents itself whereby he can do one of his parts, who is sick and in dire need. A good turn. While he is trying to accomplish this he "gets the big idea" and then develops some rather interesting situations. Mr. O'Brien's interpretation of the crook is decidedly interesting.

The other picture feature presents Tami Aoki (Mrs. Soetie Hayakawa) in her latest film triumph, "Ashes of Desire." It's a story of the Orient, in which some Americans play an important part. It has action and love interest in happy combination. A good comedy and weekly will also be shown.

OPERA HOUSE

A new Comstock and Gest production, entitled "The Cave Girl" by George Middleton and Guy Bolton, will be the attraction for the Lowell Players at the Opera House for the present week. The first performances will be given this afternoon and tonight. Messrs. Middleton and Bolton are the authors of "Polly with a Pistol" and "Adam and Eve," two of the most delightful comedies the stage has seen in recent seasons, and naturally any new play from the pens of such worthy authors is deserving of unusual attention and consideration. As might be inferred from its title, the comedy is written around a fascinating though primitive type of a girl, who has spent her entire life in the Maine woods. The piece abounds in contrasting types cleverly drawn, and the dialogue is of the sharp, witty kind for which these well known authors have achieved a reputation. In their previous pieces the authors directed their satirical shafts at the smart long island set. In this newest piece they have gone to the woods of northern Maine for their locale. The story has to do with the untutored and primitive type of girl, Margaret Sautter, who has spent most of her life in the Maine woods. By way of proving that nature is a great teacher, the author shows in what manner this girl measured up to some of her more fortunate sisters from the city, when obliged to shed all the pretty artifices of civilization.

Miss Marguerite Fields will appear in the role of the cave girl, which was so cleverly portrayed by Grace Valentine during its recent run at the Globe theatre, Boston. The other characters will be in capable hands.

The advance sale of tickets indicates capacity audiences at many of the performances, so it is advisable to make your reservations as early as possible. Box office open daily from 10 a. m. to 9 p. m. Tel. 261.

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE

Maude's Tourneur's latest offering, "Deep Waters," being shown at the Merrimack square theatre today, tomorrow and Wednesday. It is a photoplay replete with scenic beauty, true characterizations and more than ordinary interest with its rugged folks against a background of marine beauty. The story is not only unique, but it is so true to life that it never fails to interest. The action commences at a fashionable dinner in a big city; sweeps the beholder up to the New England coast and then back again. Other features of the current program include a Schenck comedy, "It's a Boy," the International News, "Topics of the Day" and "Raiders of the North."

R. F. KEITH'S THEATRE

Vaudeville history has been made in recent months by Miss Norton and Paul Nicholson, who will be among the special features at the R. F. Keith theatre this week beginning today. "A Dramatic Cartoon" is their little offering, and there are many reasons why it has not such a strong hold on audiences everywhere. In the first place it is a very human little play, an absolutely faithful portrayal of an incident in the lives of a young married couple, and, in all probability, it has occurred in the lives of hundreds of others. Humor and pathos are genuinely human emotions, and they are given splendid play in this "cartoon." The acting of the principal characters is very skilfully done.

A real Lowell favorite is James B.

Donovan, "The King of Ireland," who, with Miss Marie Lee, "the dancing butterfly," will give their humorously exciting skit called "Doing Well, Thank You." Mr. Donnelly is far from being unknown here. He has many friends in this city, who will be specially anxious to hear him once more in his merry songs and quips, and who will desire to see Miss Lee dance. Her work is faultless.

Again the management will score in a novelty way, this time with Al Almont and Mlle. Belmont in a novelty singing, instrumental and comedy act. Mr. Almont is the inventor of two most peculiar musical instruments which, while they are strange in appearance, emit wonderfully beautiful tones. They are the "septiphone" and the "phony vox humana trumpet." The act differs materially from any other musical turn in vaudeville.

An act that has the word "circus" written all over it is that to be presented by Corradini's animals, which are, in fact, eight dogs, two monkeys and a pony. Continuously are the animals performing, and it is said to be the fastest animal act in the varieties.

The very newest "single" woman on the stage is Dorothy Wahl, who, after appearing with male partners the past few years, has decided to go out and do her own act. She is a decided hit, but she is a jester of rare worth.

Tommy Gordon does what he does for fun alone, and he is some funny youngster with a bagful of food, modern observations that will catch the fancy of all.

High grade posing, duplicating many famous sculptures, is the work of Margaret Stewart & Co. The offering indicates much real study from the original models. News Kinegrams, Topics of the Day and a Screen comedy will also be shown.

REALTY THEATRE

Constance Talmadge in "The Perfect Woman," is the stellar attraction, showing at the Realty theatre Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of this week. The picture is an enthralling story of how a pretty woman conquered half a dozen Bolshevik agents and grasped a multi-millionaire woman, hater from their hands, eventually "vanishing" her way into his heart for a place as his wife. "Hell's Oasis" forms the supporting part of the big bill, with Warner Oland in the thrilling serial, "The Third Eye." Hank Mann in "Hot Dog," a screaming comedy and a series of Fox News of the latest interest. It is a program well worth seeing and will afford plenty of enjoyment for all.

REPUBLICANS TO VOTE FOR COX

Over 100 Representative Republicans and Progressives Issue Statement

To Support all Candidates "Who Stand Honestly for Adherence to League"

NEW YORK, Oct. 18.—A joint statement by over 100 representative men and women who have usually supported the republican or progressive tickets, "announcing their intention to vote for Cox and Roosevelt and those senatorial candidates who stand honestly and frankly for ratification of the league," was made public here last night by Hamilton Holt, magazine editor.

This statement set forth that "it is now too late to talk of a new association of nations to be created under republican auspices," and repudiating the present republican leadership that "has permitted the republican and progressives to become the America party," urged all republicans and progressives to "put patriotism above party" and add their names to the list of signers.

This list, according to Mr. Holt, is increasing daily. An analysis given out with the statement said that it included 15 republican officers of the League to Enforce Peace; clergymen representing all the principal denominations, the presidents of Oberlin Vassar, Smith, Bryn Mawr and Mt. Holyoke colleges; several veterans of the great war and nine former republican or progressive party managers and office holders. In the last classification, were listed Charles R. Howland of New York, Violet M. LeRoy, New York, Theodore Marburg Baltimore, W. H. Nichols, Henington Vt., Herbert Parsons, New York, Elus D. Salisbury, Indianapolis, Edwin E. Stinson, New York, Richard Welling, New York and Alice White, Wellesley.

The statement declared that the republican party is "drifting toward national isolation," had repudiated political traditions under which the signers had been reared—traditions emphasizing the international responsibilities of America, from Lincoln to Taft.

Asserting that they held no brief for the present administration and did not insist "on any particular wording of reservations to any articles of the treaty," the signers set forth that they did not desire that "a cause which should have served to unite all parties in the same spirit of common service which won the great war, should be made a basis of party distinction in the present campaign."

"Such republican statesmen as Andrew D. White, Joseph M. Choate and Elihu Root labored for the development of international law and for the organization of the world through the two league conferences," read the statement. "We would continue in the path they indicated."

The statement then cited as proof that "national isolation has never been a republican watch word," President McKinley's attitude toward China; Theodore Roosevelt's intervention in the Russo-Japanese war; the work of William Howard Taft for the League of Nations; the presidential candidacy of Charles Evans Hughes as a protest against what he thought at that time was the indifference of the administration to our international responsibilities and republican approval of abandonment by President Wilson "of his party's historic policy of narrow nationalism to advocate a League of Nations."

"True republican statesmanship would have welcomed and supported the covenant," continued the statement. "It would have seen in the league the one practicable means of restoring and increasing the authority of international law and its agencies resigned ultimately to supplant war."

Dismissing the thought of a new "association of nations," the statement said:

"The proposal to ask 43 member nations to scrap the existing league, enter another peace conference and agree on some undefined experiment can no longer be taken seriously."

The statement then reviewed the work of various league agencies already under way, and said:

"We want our country to stand first in the councils of nations. We want our country to share fully in the great decisions which are shaping the future of the world. We cannot endorse Senator Harding's policy of 'America last.'"

In closing the statement said: "In the absence of definite assurances that the republican candidates will use their influence to bring the United States into the league with such reservations as may be acceptable to the American people, we urge all republicans and progressives who put patriotism above party, to join with us in working and voting for James Cox and Franklin D. Roosevelt, and for those senatorial candidates who stand honestly and frankly for ratification of the treaty and adherence to the league."

DARTMOUTH SENIOR FOUND MURDERED

(Special Dispatch to the Globe)

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 18.—The police are looking for the murderer of 23-year-old Elmer C. Drewes of 4235 Pine street, a senior at Dartmouth college, whose body was found by a lamplighter at Adams lane and city line in Oak lane at 6.30 yesterday morning.

Drewes lay on his back at the foot of the lamppost. His hands were folded over his chest. His overcoat had been removed and draped over the lower part of his body. Over his left eyebrow was a bullet hole. No weapon was found nearby. Evidently he had been brought there and left by his murderer.

"The place where the body was found is a lonely and unfrequented spot; the nearest house being a quarter of a mile away. Wheel marks of an automobile, where it had stopped by the side of the road and turned around, were found nearby. Drewes knew few persons in Philadelphia, according to his father, who was convinced that his son had not voluntarily given up his plan to start immediately for college, but had been stopped through force or fraud."

In the pockets of his clothes were a Philadelphia & Reading railroad ticket to Reading, Penn., $2.00 in cash, a watch, $5.00 in Liberty bonds, two checks for $100 signed by his father, Christian T. Drewes, and a slip of paper on which was his name and address, 20 South Massachusetts ave., Haverhill, N. H. His rings were on his fingers.

The father later identified the body of his son. He said he left him at 3.30 Saturday night. Elmer intended to go to Reading to buy an automobile, by which he expected to travel to Dartmouth. He was alone the last time the father saw him.

Mrs. Drewes, who was seen at her home yesterday afternoon before she was aware of the disaster which had overtaken her son, told the reason for her son's absence from Dartmouth.

"He came down Friday on a business trip," she said, "and stopped at New York to see Charles Shaloss, a friend, who owed him some money. They told him Charles was in Atlantic City and so Elmer went down there. He came home about half past five Saturday afternoon and said he was glad he got the money. It was $100. Fifty of it Shaloss had borrowed from my son and $50 from Elmer's sister. He left home Saturday night about 8.30 to go back to college."

Elmer was a graduate of the Central high school and of the Plattsburg officers' training camp. He served as an instructor during the war. Last summer, with the rank of first lieutenant he was an instructor at the Students' Army Training camp at Princeton university. He was obliged to complete his last year of college at Dartmouth in 1921 and next year planned to enter the graduate school of finance and commerce at that institution. His mother said he was an earnest student and "didn't have any time for the girls."

Shaloss, the last friend whom his parents knew Elmer to have seen, was said by Mrs. Drewes to be the son of Julius Shaloss of New York, and a nephew of Mr. and Mrs. J. Wertheim of 182 West 58th street, New York. His father died two years ago. On coming of age last September, Charles Shaloss became heir to $100,000 of his father's estate.

A Canadian agriculturalist has invented a system by which queen bees are developed in cages to insure that they shall not get away from the control of the grower.

father's estate. Of this $55,000 is in trust until he is 45 years old. The rest is at his disposal, and according to Mrs. Drewes, he is getting the full advantage of his money in New York, Atlantic City, and elsewhere.

"He has a fine big automobile," said the mother of the dead boy, "but he doesn't work or go to college and I've told my boy to stop going with him."

Detective Belshaw of the city hall murder squad, and Detectives Graham and Reeves of the Oak Lane police station are working on the case. They say they have several clues.

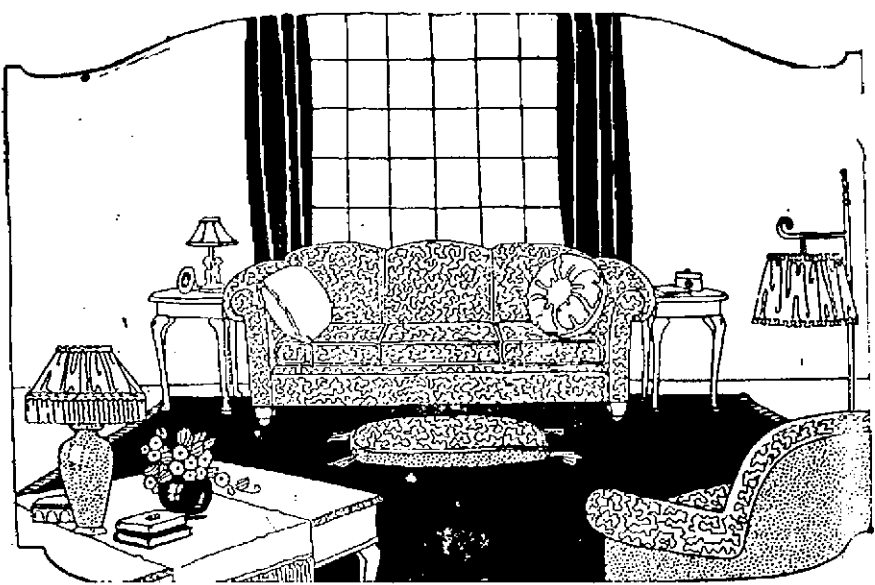

The police were forced to abandon a theory that Drewes had shot himself accidentally while in the company of others and that they, fearing they would be accused of the crime, had disposed of the body, by the fact that there were no powder marks on the face or body, proving that the bullet had been fired from some distance. The body was taken to the Jewish hospital yesterday after it was found by a lamplighter, Charles Chase of Crescentville, near Oak Lane. From there it was taken to the Oak Lane station at York road and Olney ave. Mr. Drewes, accompanied by detectives, saw the body at the station house. It was taken to the morgue later.

BRITISH SPY TRAPPED

Story of Hardy's Plan for Assassination Plot to Trap Sinn Fein Leaders

The following story is condensed from a recent issue of the Freeman's Journal, Dublin, Ireland:

"A representative of the Freeman's Journal was privileged to be present on Thursday at a most dramatic and sensational exposure of a man who claimed to be an English secret service agent. A few days ago this man, whose name is Frank Hardy, approached Mr. Arthur Griffith, the vice president of Sinn Fein, and made sensational suggestions to him. He claimed to be employed by the British secret service, but professed to have England and to be prepared to take any risks to help Sinn Fein. He offered to arrange to have the chief of the British secret service in Ireland to be at a lonely place unaccompanied."

"The Freeman's Journal representative found Mr. Griffith seated in a room with a number of well-known and distinguished representatives of English, French, American, Italian and French newspapers."

"Our representative continues: 'Then Mr. Griffith explained the object of his invitation. He told how Hardy had made overtures to him and put forward certain sensational propositions. 'This man,' he said, 'admits he is in the English secret service, and offers to arrange for the presence of the secret service chief, Capt. Thompson, at a lonely point on Dun Loughaire pier. He will then leave him to be dealt with. He asked me to let him meet leaders of the movement, especially on the military side, and he is coming here this evening imagining that he is to meet some inner council of the Sinn Fein movement. I believe he is only one of a number of men acting as agents provocateurs throughout the country. I will let him tell you his own story, but I would ask the foreign gentlemen present not to speak much, lest the man's suspicions be aroused."

"Mr. Hardy, the spy who was waiting, was then brought in and told his story, stating that he had been imprisoned for aiding the Sinn Fein. He said he hated his own country, Eireland, and was willing to do anything to help the Sinn Fein cause. He asked if anyone present were acquainted in Derry and being answered in the negative, he told of his aiding the Sinn Fein volunteers there and of being imprisoned for the part he had taken. He proposed to lead a high military official, Capt. Thompson, head of the secret service, unaccompanied to a lonely place at a certain time so that the Sinn Fein men might dispose of him as they pleased. He thought he was talking to the inner circle of the Sinn Fein.

"He also told them he could enable them to get Sir Edward Carson or Sir Hamar Greenwood if the leaders so desired."

"The newspaper men actually gasped at his proposition. Then Mr. Griffith got up with a newspaper clipping in hand and read Hardy's criminal record, showing him to be one of the most notorious thieves and forgers in all England. He had operated all over the British Isles and had been convicted about a score of times and sentenced to periods ranging from three months to seven years. He served two sentences of seven years and his last sentence was one of five years, penal servitude, in December, 1918, so that he must have been set at liberty for this particular line of service. His official criminal record filled nearly a column of a newspaper."

"Hardy thought he was trapping the Sinn Fein leaders in a murder plot, but he himself was trapped. Mr. Griffith denounced him as a scoundrel in the pay of the government, a jail bird released for that purpose and warned him to leave Ireland by the first boat. He grew pale, trembled and in evident terror walked out of the room."

"Mr. Griffith, addressing the disgusted newspaper men, said 'you see what the government is doing to implicate Irishmen in murder plots and there are many agents such as Hardy going about through the country trying to implicate young boys in plots and then have them murdered by the 'Black and Tans,' made up also to a great extent of men released from prison."

LOWELL POLICE ARE HIGHLY COMMENDED

Supt. Redmond Welch and other members of the local police department are highly commended for their work in arresting Robert R. Hermann, wanted on charges of counterfeiting. In a letter addressed to Mayor Perry R. Thompson by Harry L. Barker, an official of the United States secret service.

The letter was received by His Honor today and reads as follows:

Dear Sir:—It is a source of pleasure to me to take this opportunity of bringing to your attention the work of Chief Redmond Welch and the officers of his department in the recent arrest and conviction of Robert R. Hermann, a much-wanted counterfeiter, who successfully evaded the efforts of the police of the larger cities to capture him.

This office has always had the co-operation of the police department of Lowell and I assure you that it is appreciated.

I am, very truly yours,

HARRY L. BARKER,
Operative in Charge.

ARMISTICE BALL

The Armistice ball committee of the American Legion held a meeting yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the region headquarters in Dutton street to further the plans for the second annual armistice ball to be held in association with the celebration of the armistice of the various committees were submitted and progress was announced on all hands. Tickets were distributed to the members present and it was announced this morning that several hundred have already been given out through the city. No tickets will be sent by mail this year. The ball will be marked with special features yet to be announced. There will be a musical concert before the grand march, orchestra, and orchestra will furnish the music. The committees are as follows: Arthur O'Neil, decorating; Thomas Clark, publicity; James Power, financial; Arthur Moran, ladies' auxiliary; Arthur Baehleider, music; Benjamin Maloney, reception; Leon Vigeant, arrangements; John O'Grady, printing.

COUNCIL MEETING

Several matters of timely interest are scheduled to come up for discussion at tomorrow's meeting of the municipal council. The selection of a site for a new firehouse in the Highlands, following several months' consideration and discussion, a decision as to whether the polls in Lowell are to be kept open until 6 p. m. instead of 4 p. m. on state election day, and a possible formal request on the part of the council that the report of William L. Kitter, expert architect, to the high school commission, a copy of which is now in the hands of the charter commission, be made public, are among the items which the council may discuss at its meeting.

GRAND CIRCUIT RACES

ATLANTA, Ga., Oct. 13.—The 1920 grand circuit season will be brought to a close this week with a meeting which opened today at Lakewood park. Four races were on today's program, the largest purse being $3500 for the three heat 2.55 pace.

than in actual information, but without doubt many of the most prominent men in labor circles are willing and eager to find means to end the dispute, which brought about a complete cessation of the coal industry. The question is how far their efforts will be able to influence the men who quit work on Saturday.

Settlement in Week Possible

John Robert Clynes, former food controller, and one of the most moderate of the labor leaders, has expressed confidence that a settlement is possible within a week, if both sides can be brought together to calmly discuss the merits of the controversy. He advocates as a basis of agreement, the granting to the miners of half their demands, and the submission of the remainder to an impartial tribunal. He professes great confidence in the power of parliament to harmonize the differences between the government and the miners. J. H. Thomas, general secretary of the National Union of Railwaymen, has also made moderate statements and both these men are relied upon to do their utmost to shorten the strike.

Blames Government for Strike

Newspapers contrast the attitude of Clynes and Thomas with that of C. T. Cramp, president National Union Railwaymen, who has given warning to members of that union of "the serious situation which will be created if the miners are defeated." They also call attention to an utterance by Edwin Levin, secretary of the Dockworkers' union, who in a speech yesterday accused the government of having engineered the strike and charged it with double dealing. He declares his statement will be proved in a few days, as he has learned that France, with Great Britain's connivance, is "going to make another pounce on the Ruhr mines in western Germany."

Pound Sterling Drops

The position of the government regarding the strike is entirely different than it was in 1912, when it intervened between owners and miners to settle the dispute. The government, as a result of the war has been placed in the position of the directorate of the mining industry, the finances of which it controls, and it is consequently interested in the prosperity of the coal trade, which is yielding a large sum to the exchequer. It is maintained that the government wholly supports the premier's intimated readiness to explore every avenue toward settlement, and will facilitate almost any movement toward the reopening of negotiations. Such a movement, it is suggested, may be started at today's meeting of the parliamentary committee of the trade union conference with the executive committee of the labor party, and labor leaders in parliament.

Other Unions Marking Time

One effect of the coal strike upon financial London has been the weakening of pound sterling, which has dropped to $3.41 on buying orders to cover actual and prospective coal shipments from the United States to Europe. The effect has already been seen on continental exchanges, all of which moved against Great Britain late last week and which were again slightly weaker today.

The transport workers and the railwaymen—the two other bodies of the powerful triple alliance to which the miners belong—were evidently marking time today in the matter of deciding whether they would lend their support to the strike.

They appeared to be inclined not to take precipitate action, pending possible proposals from some source upon which the government and the miners could negotiate.

Italy Has Reserve Supply

ROME, Oct. 18.—Italy will not feel any effects from the British coal strike before the end of November, as the government, in view of the possibility of the strike, accumulated reserves which now approximate 1,100,000 tons. The fuel board has announced it is prepared to supply American and British coal to ocean-going steamers; German coal suitable for steamers; manufacturers and gasmakers, Belgian anthracite and coke from Westphalia and upper Silesia for metallurgical plants.

The first steamer loaded with 7200 tons of German coal arrived at Naples yesterday. All available rolling stock has been dispatched to Germany and Austria to bring coal assigned to Italy by the treaties of Versailles and St. Germain.

Imports of British coal have been gradually decreasing, being less than 18,000 tons in September. At the conclusion of the armistice, England pledged herself to provide Italy with 1,600,000 tons of coal per month at a price then equivalent to four pounds sterling per ton. Italy has been receiving less than one-tenth that amount, and has been paying 1000 lire per ton which is approximately $30, under the present rate of exchange.

UKRAINIANS TO AID WRANGEL AGAINST REDS

WARSAW, Oct. 17.—(By Associated Press)—The Ukrainians, who are fighting to rid their country of the Bolsheviks, have signed an agreement to assist General Wrangel, head of the south Russian government. Plans are being made for the two armies to join soon and the Ukrainians are gradually working their way to the southeast, where General Wrangel's anti-Bolshevik forces are in conflict with soviet armies. General Budenny, who is reported to have been wounded before resigning as commander of Bolshevik cavalry, is said to have established headquarters at Mlonka, southwest of Kiev, where he is organizing insurgent detachments in the interests of General Wrangel. According to information received at the headquarters of the Ukrainian mission here, the Ukrainian soviet government was transferred from Kiev to Kharkov some days ago. Ukrainians who had assembled in the outskirts of the former city immediately moved in. It is said, and took over the affairs of the government. At last accounts Kiev remained in the hands of these partisans. Owing to numerous Bolshevik raiding parties operating west of Kiev, railroad communication between Warsaw and that city has not as yet been established. Soviet forces are particularly active in the vicinity of Staro Konstantinov and Littlechiv are at attempting to oust the Ukrainians from that district, but the latter say they have repelled the Bolsheviks. An Ukrainian cavalry division recently broke the soviet lines at Chmelnik, northeast of Kamretz-Podoisk, and is now operating in the rear of the enemy near Berdichev.

seed and reaches the summit, another wastes his life. "Individuality counts in the moral and spiritual development. In the development of the spirit we find habit a strong element. By our habits we are either slaves of sin or free men. If you are a slave of sin by habit you can become your own emancipator by changing your habit. Obedience to God is a habit. "Our life here is the sowing for the eternal harvest. If we sow to the flesh we will reap corruption. If we sow to the spirit we will win life everlasting. If you sow to the wind you will reap the whirlwind. If you sow to the spirit you will reap life everlasting."

French Baptist Church In the French Baptist church last evening Rev. E. C. Ramette, a former pastor, recently returned from France, told of his experiences abroad as a secretary. He said that the Y.M.C.A. is doing everything possible to aid in the physical, mental and moral rehabilitation of the people of France. Food and medical treatment are being given to children of 10 and 12 years, who are undernourished and mentally undeveloped, the speaker asserted. He said that the organization had made mistakes, but is held in high esteem by the French people. While abroad Mr. Ramette was given the palm academique and the diploma of official de l'Academie Francaise in recognition of his work.

NEW PASTOR AT PAIGE STREET CHURCH

Rev. J. Cecil Hayes denied that men and women are the products of heredity, or that they could rightfully hide responsibility for their acts behind the claim that they erred because their ancestors did wrong. In a sermon in the Paige Street Baptist church last evening, Mr. Hayes has recently been installed as pastor of the church and preached his first sermons yesterday. Mr. Hayes' sermon was based on the text: "He not deceived, God is not mocked, for whatsoever a man sows that shall he also reap." "All the good things belonging to the tendencies of the father and mother do not make one good at the start and all evil things do not make the child bad at the start," said the preacher. "Each must be nurtured carefully to bring out what follows. If life is but a game of chance and heredity and environment mean everything and personality means nothing, then we are indeed victims of a game of chance. It is individuality that counts and man must strive to overcome the tured tendencies and the passions of the soul. Self-control must be realized by personal development."

The overweighting their hands in mortification and helplessness; revolting at nauseating drugs, afraid of violent exercise, dreading the unrelenting and unsatisfying diet, until they hit upon the harmless Marmola Tablets which quickly and safely reduce weight at the rate of two, three or four pounds a week without any change in the mode of life. The ideal figure is soon obtained, with a smoother skin and a better appetite and health improved. Marmola Tablets contain all the ingredients which make the Marmola Prescription famous. It behooves you to learn the satisfactory beneficial effects of this great, safe fat reducer by giving to your druggist the reasonable price, one dollar, for a good size box or sending a like amount to the Marmola Co., 55 Garfield Building, Detroit, Mich., with a request that they mail to you a small box of Marmola Prescription Tablets.

SURE WAY TO GET RID OF BLACKHEADS
There is one simple, safe and sure way that never fails to get rid of blackheads and that is to dissolve them. To do this get two ounces of calomel powder from any drug store—sprinkle a little on a hot, wet sponge—wash the face and you will be surprised how the blackheads have disappeared. Big blackheads, little blackheads, no matter where they are, simply dissolve and disappear, leaving the parts without any mark whatever. Blackheads are simply a mixture of dust and dirt and secretions from the body that form in the pores of the skin—plugging and squeezing only cause irritation, make large pores, and do not get them out after they become hard. The calomel powder and the water simply dissolve the blackheads so they wash right out, leaving the pores free and clean and in their natural condition. Anyone troubled with these unsightly blemishes should certainly try this simple method—Adv.

LOWELL'S PLAY FEATURE THE SCORE IN INDIAN-
OF POLO LEAGUE ROSLINDALE GAME

The feature of last week's play in the American Roller Polo league was the work of the Lowell outfit, which went from fifth to second place in the standing.

New Bedford still holds the lead, a place which has been monopolized by the Whalers since the opening game. The Whalers were ordered to repeat a week in advance of the other players. This gave them an opportunity to get into training and when the bell rang, Bill Lusk and his pals were not to a flying start.

They have played good polo all the way and are setting a pace that if maintained will be hard to overcome by the other contenders.

Fall River, with Big Jean at the helm is playing consistent polo and will undoubtedly give all other teams considerable trouble. The game was a good one, and the players were well matched.

Bridgeport and Hartford, the Connecticut entries, are hitting a fair pace. The players perfect team play. Hartford, particularly is expected to be well up in the pennant fight. Lusk and Lusk are good offensive men and Evans Morrison and Hunkler are capable performers in the defensive department.

Salem with Frank Hardy and Kid Williams as the conspicuous members, is bound to show improvement as the season advances. Lowell fans are well satisfied with their team. They are a fine combination of offense and defense. Doherty at half-back is all wool and a yard wide. Bouchard and Welch, while playing their first season as professionals are improving with every game and give indications of developing into top notch performers.

The week's schedule:

Monday—Lowell at Hartford; Fall River at Salem.

Tuesday—Worcester at Lowell; Hartford at Bridgeport; New Bedford at Providence.

Wednesday—Salem at Fall River; Bridgeport at Worcester.

Thursday—Providence at Salem; Bridgeport at New Bedford.

Friday—New Bedford at Lowell; Worcester at Fall River; Providence at Hartford.

Saturday—Lowell at New Bedford; Hartford at Providence; Fall River at Worcester; Salem at Bridgeport.

LITTLE PRINCE WINS OVER FAY RICHMOND

More than 2000 people, including a goodly sprinkling of the fair sex saw Little Prince, Tom Braden's classy pacer, defeat Fay Richmond, 20 to 12, in the championship match at Golden Cove park Saturday afternoon. It was, as presaged in advance, the best horse race ever seen in Lowell. The contest was the best in five and it went four heats. Ray Richmond winning the third heat. The track, except on the back stretch, was pretty heavy, but horses were game to the core and contested every inch of the way. The finish of the first heat was so close that a great many thought Fay Richmond had won it, but as a matter of fact Little Prince just barely nosed him out. It was a splendid exhibition.

Other attractions on the card included a great trot, heat two in three, and in this event Black Thunder, driven by Maguire, won handsily and was awarded first money. Little Prince setting second.

It took five heats to decide the free-for-all trot which was finally won by Runson, another Lowell horse, the property of Mr. Isaac Wolton.

The summary:

CATHOLIC BOWLING LEAGUE

The Catholic bowling league will open its season tonight. Eight teams have entered the league and indications point to keen competition for the prizes. Games will be rolled on Monday and Wednesday nights.

MANCHESTER HIGH DEFEATS LOWELL HIGH

In a well-fought game, the Lowell high school football team was defeated by Manchester high school by the score of 7 to 0, at Southside park Saturday afternoon. Throughout the entire contest the ball was carried up and down the field in zig-zag fashion and it was only in the second period that Manchester showed any great superiority over the locals.

The weather was not ideal for football and that may account for lack of "heat" noticeable in a few of the plays of both teams. The visitors brought with them nearly 200 rooters who kept the first bleachers alive with noise and fan-pan racket throughout the game and seemed even more enthusiastic than the many Lowell spectators who were coached by three cheer leaders.

Capt. Kennedy of Manchester who made the only touchdown, by clever line plunging, and Quarterback Marston were easily the stars of the visitors, while O'Hare, Holt, Normandin and B. MacAdams did good work for Lowell.

In the first period Normandin kicked off to Manchester's 25-yard line and Holt caught the runner after he had made a long run into Lowell territory. Then in attempting a series of plunges Manchester was penalized for being off-side. An end run by Manchester failed and a fumble was recovered by O'Hare. Normandin, MacAdams and O'Hare worked the ball back to the 40-yard line where an attempt to forward by O'Hare failed. Lowell then with a long run that looked like a score, O'Day dropped the runner. Manchester then threw a forward for 10 yards, but was then penalized for being off-side and with one minute to play and the ball near Lowell's 20-yard line, Manchester plunged down the field, the period closing with the ball on Lowell's 15-yard line.

In opening the second period both teams fought back and forth in the shadows of Lowell goal posts. Howe got through and caused a fumble by Manchester. Dear Old Pete:

Just wound up the one sweetest day of my life! Since early this morning, when I got an invitation to visit R.J. Reynolds Tobacco Co. factories, I've been in the midst of millions of Camel cigarettes. Yes sir, right from the rooms where the choice Turkish and choice Domestic tobaccos go into Camels unbreakable blend, straight through to the loading platforms where cases holding 10,000 Camels each are packed into car after car for shipping to every corner and cross roads in the U.S.A!

Man—the happiest idea you or I ever had as to the size of this Reynolds enterprise, or the number of Camels manufactured daily, is simply pixer-stuff! Wipe off the slate and start fresh! Why—Pete, it seemed to me like a couple of those cigarette-making machines could keep half the nation smoking Camels steadily—BUT—honest to goodness, there are hundreds of these machines batting out Camels at the rate of 27,000 an hour—EACH!

And, Pete, you wouldn't have to consult a guide book to know you were in the Camel factories! The atmosphere is just charged with that wonderful aroma you get when you open up a deck of Camels! And, you know, old elephant—you've had a trunk full!

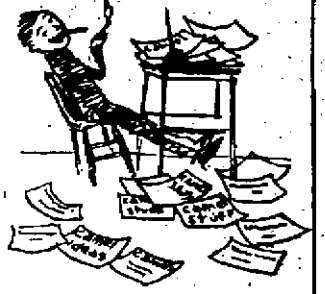

I stood by one of these machines, kind of fascinated. As the Camels dropped into the containers I figured the delight each one would supply! And, how Camels mellow, mild body would hit the right spot and how Camels refreshing flavor would cheer up some smoker's jaded appetite! And, each Camel free from any unpleasant cigarette aftertaste or unpleasant cigarette odor! And—

Pete—I'll have to lay off and light another Camel! Write you some more soon, old Camel-o-pard!

Yours joyously

Thereafter, the ball sailed from one end of the field to another, but there was no actual scoring. Manchester worked the forward pass generously, but never gained more than 10 yards on any of them. Lack of speed proved the visitors' great weakness.

LITTLE PRINCE WINS OVER FAY RICHMOND

More than 2000 people, including a goodly sprinkling of the fair sex saw Little Prince, Tom Braden's classy pacer, defeat Fay Richmond, 20 to 12, in the championship match at Golden Cove park Saturday afternoon. It was, as presaged in advance, the best horse race ever seen in Lowell. The contest was the best in five and it went four heats. Ray Richmond winning the third heat. The track, except on the back stretch, was pretty heavy, but horses were game to the core and contested every inch of the way. The finish of the first heat was so close that a great many thought Fay Richmond had won it, but as a matter of fact Little Prince just barely nosed him out. It was a splendid exhibition.

Other attractions on the card included a great trot, heat two in three, and in this event Black Thunder, driven by Maguire, won handsily and was awarded first money. Little Prince setting second.

It took five heats to decide the free-for-all trot which was finally won by Runson, another Lowell horse, the property of Mr. Isaac Wolton.

COX CALLS DU PONT "THE KRUPP OF AMERICA"

CLEVELAND, O., Oct. 18.—Use by his opposition of an editorial in his newspaper six years ago criticizing traveling salesman was denounced by Governor Cox in his address here Saturday night, closing his present home state campaign.

The Traveling Men's bureau of the republican national committee, under the leadership of Coleman Du Pont, republican national committeeman for Delaware, Governor Cox charged, is spreading "false propaganda" that the governor had attacked American traveling men.

Reiterating that the editorial was written by a paid editorial writer while the governor was absent, Governor Cox retorted how he has compelled an immediate editorial apology from the writer.

Coleman Du Pont, Governor Cox said, is not a traveling man but "the Krupp of America." Citing his own position for the League of Nations and that of Senator Harding, his republican opponent, Governor Cox said that the Du Pont family had "grown rich on the profits of war" and that he was not surprised that Mr. Du Pont was opposing his election.

"I am not so much concerned about the deceitful propaganda," said Governor Cox, "as I am to have the people understand just what is going on. I hold in my hand the letter and circular issued by Coleman Du Pont as chairman of the Traveling Men's bureau of the republican national committee. I think everyone knows that Coleman Du Pont is not a traveling man and that he has no great public interest at stake in this campaign. I can understand how he would undertake to organize groups and stir up prejudices to encompass my defeat because Coleman Du Pont, as the Krupp of America, a member of the great munitions family, knows what it means should I be elected and secure the ratification of the treaty of peace and the League of Nations. This family has grown financially fat and insolent on the profits of the war. When men bleed and die on the battlefield the munition makers receive dividends and the League of Nations definitely provides against this sort of profiteering in the future. Not only is the League of Nations designed to make peace permanent, but it provides for taking away the agencies of war for a general disarmament, and as the first step toward disarmament and war prevention, it declares against the manufacture of munitions in any event by private concerns, because such concerns inspire and invite war. No wonder Coleman Du Pont is interesting himself in behalf of the reactionary candidate whose motto is 'scrap the League of Nations.' It is, however, difficult for me to believe that any intelligent class of people can be misled by so classily inspired false propaganda such as this."

Governor Cox retorted misinformation regarding his policies, prohibition, the Irish question and German and other questions, which, the candidate declared, had been spread by his foes.

"As an instance of this," he continued, "I have today learned of the activities of a so-called traveling men's bureau of the republican national committee, under the leadership of Coleman Du Pont, to infect partisanship into the council of traveling salesmen of America, by the false attempt to show that an attack was made by me upon the traveling men as an institution through the medium of my newspaper. The fact of the matter is this: While I was officially occupied in the governor's office, the editor of my papers did write an editorial unfortunately phrased and disparaging to the traveling men's place and worth. When it came to my attention the next day, I demanded and secured not only retraction of the statement, but a public apology from the editor. So regretful was he of the incident that he resigned his position and went to another place. All of this took place in 1914, more than six years ago."

"The traveling men of Ohio who have brought this matter to my attention so recent the propaganda that they have caught and are in it's audience tonight to express their condemnation and their calling."

Governor Cox reiterated that the

Healthy Young Womanhood

THE tendency to constipation begins with girls as they approach maturity, and that is the very time when the body should be in the best of health.

Many thousands of mothers who have daughters will tell you they give only Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. A teaspoonful is sufficient to relieve constipation and its commoner symptoms such as headache, bad breath, biliousness, loss of appetite and restless sleep.

Syrup Pepsin is a compound of Pepsin, Saline and other simple laxative herbs with pepsin and pleasant-tasting aromatics, and a sixty-cent bottle is enough for many months. Eight million bottles were bought at drug stores last year, the largest sale of the kind in the world. Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin has been on the market thirty years and there must be genuine merit behind it to develop so large and steady a sale. without place in a presidential campaign."

The traveling salesman's "propaganda" was cited by the governor as an example of the opposition tactics and he declared that there has not been a single group, racial, social or commercial—to which appeal has not been made by deceitful propaganda, to distract thought away from the League of Nations and from my advocacy of progressive principles as against reaction."

SAYS TEACHERS' SALARIES ARE INADEQUATE

NEW YORK, Oct. 18.—The salaries, training and experience of public school teachers in the United States are declared to be "inadequate" by the national committee for chambers of commerce co-operation with the public schools. Despite recent salary increases, the committee asserts that the crisis has not been passed.

These conclusions are drawn in a summary of a survey of the schools of 359 cities conducted by the committee, which is composed of 33 secretaries of chambers of commerce and 33 superintendents of schools.

"The thoughtful citizen needs to ask himself," declared Dr. George W. Strayer, Columbia university, chairman of the committee, "in the light of the returns presented by our inquiry, questions like the following: Can teachers in our community have a comfortable place to live, good food and decent clothes for the amount of money which we pay them? Are the teachers who work in our schools able to get the salary paid to them, to make provision against the liabilities of illness and old age? Do the teachers in our cities have salaries sufficient to enable them to buy books, to subscribe to magazines, to enjoy music, to travel, to continue their professional study, and otherwise to lead the type of life which makes them the kind of men and women that can be most helpful to my boys and girls? Would I want my son and daughter to go into teaching? Is the recognition given to teachers, in terms of salary, in our city sufficient to attract the ablest of the young men and women in our community?" The replies to these inquiries, in view of the findings, must all be in the negative, says Dr. Strayer.

In 1913-14 one-half of the men elementary teachers in cities with a population of from 500 to 30,000, the report shows, received less than $216. In 1915-16, one-half of the same group were receiving less than $222, an advance of $16, or 7.3 per cent. Meanwhile, it was stated, the cost of living had advanced 15 per cent.

American cities paid high school principals an average of $3500 last year, while elementary school principals received an average salary of $1832. "Many of the salaries paid in these positions requiring the management of complex organizations and skillful leadership," the report points out, "are not enough to secure a competent secretary, let alone to be con-

Too Weak to Do Anything

The ordinary every-day life of most women is a ceaseless treadmill of work. How much harder the tasks become when some derangement peculiar to her sex makes every movement painful, and keeps the nervous system all unstrung until life seems hardly worth living. Every woman in this condition should profit by the experience of these two women whose letters follow.

Reading, Pa.—"I had organic inflammation, pains in the side and back which were so sharp that they pulled me to my knees, and I could not walk. I had an operation and still I failed, and in the eight years I suffered I had four doctors and none helped me. My mother-in-law advised me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I was then in bed, and after the first bottle I could be out of bed, then I took Vegetable Compound Tablets and Lydia E. Pinkham's Blood Medicine and also used the Sanative Wash. I still take the medicine and am able now to do my own housework. My friends say, 'My! but you look well—what do you do? Who is your doctor?' And there is only one answer, 'Lydia E. Pinkham's medicines which I gladly recommend.'—Mrs. Wm. Stein, 560 Douglas Street, Reading, Pa.

Gainesville, Tex.—"For three years I suffered untold agony each month with pains in my side. I found only temporary relief in doctor's medicine or anything else I took until my husband and I saw an advertisement of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I mentioned it to a neighbor and she told me she had taken it with good results, and advised me to try it. I was then in bed part of the time, and my doctor said I would have to be operated on, but we decided to try the Vegetable Compound, and I also used Lydia E. Pinkham's Sanative Wash. I am a dressmaker and am now able to go about my work, and do my housework besides. You are welcome to use this letter as a testimonial as I am always glad to speak a word for your medicine."—Mrs. W. NEWS FROM DRACUT

Registration Light—Potato Digging—Other Items

Registration of men and women voters for the coming state election in the town of Dracut is far below what it should be. There are about 350 women and 325 men voters on the lists and of those numbers only 100 women had registered and about 25 men up to last night. At the registration session in the town office, Dracut Center, during this afternoon the registrars expected to sign up the greatest number since they started their work. So far, the registrars have not been obliged to hire extra clerks, but when the "next-to-the-last-minute" rush starts, such a thing is a possibility. There will be two more sessions to register, one at McManon's in Kenwood on Oct. 12, the other at the town office, Dracut Center, on Oct. 23, the last day for registration of voters in towns according to the law of the state.

Potato Digging Time The majority of farmers of the Dracut section are now steadily employed themselves and have but to work whatever help they could get. In digging potatoes, from many of them comes the report that the potato crop hereabouts, in the Dracut section at least, will be depleted greatly by rot. In the Kenwood section this is particularly true, because much of the land there is low and there has been considerable heavy rain. Whether or not these conditions would have any great effect upon the Lowell market or whether they were similar in other surrounding towns, the farmers could not say. Loss in the potato crop strikes the farmers hard because at this time of planting seed potatoes were very high. Mr. James McMan-mon of Kenwood has had good luck so far, however, with potatoes, because part of his land is high, but mainly because he planted a new variety, "Debbie's Russet," recommended by the county bureau as free from disease. "Debbie's Russet" is a New York potato, not known in this section of the country, but Mr. McManmon during the planting season determined to experiment. He reports that the results have been very satisfactory and that his crops are free from rot, as guaranteed by the county bureau of agriculture. At the present time on the McManmon farm there is a gang of 15 men digging potatoes with the aid of a digging machine.

It is said that there is more cider being made this year than ever before, because of the large amount of windfall apples within the last two or three weeks. A short crop of No. 1 apples is expected.

Miss Anna Gregory, formerly of Bradford, Mass., is now supervisor of music in the Dracut, Tyngsboro, Newbury and North Reading sections, having been recently elected by the school committee. Miss Gregory has had experience as a music supervisor in other schools in the state.

The entire re-building of the chimney of the Collinsville school has just been completed. The chimney had not been repaired since the construction of the school, but it was found necessary recently because it was a danger to safety and rain also leaked in at its base.

The work of the park department, Thomas Carrick supervisor, at the present time consists of spraying all low bushes and trees with creosote to kill moth eggs and tree lice. The supervisor is assisted in his work by one helper. Carrick has received great praise for the condition of the

Mr. and Mrs. Francis Audette of York street, Kenwood, will hold a house warming party at their home this evening. All kinds of entertainment will be provided, including dancing, band music, games and vocal selections. Refreshments will be served.

HERONS - KILLED TO SAVE TROUT

N.E.A. Staff Special HELENA, Mont., Oct. 18.—Over-anxiety for the protection of young trout is blamed for the slaughter of 270 blue herons in a day on an island in the Yellowstone river. Six residents of Reelpoint have been arrested and will be tried for violation of the federal migratory bird law in killing herons.

The six men, members of a gun club, do not deny they did the shooting and the townsfolk are behind them, because herons have been destroying thousands of young trout daily. The birds established a colony on the island and it was wiped out when the shooting took place.

United States Marshal J. L. Ashbridge claims a heron didn't catch trout if it tried to and that the birds only eat frogs.

DEATHS
KELLEY—After an illness of but a few months, Miss Katherine E. Kelley, for a long period a valued member of the teaching staff at the Butler grammar school, passed away at the home of her brother, Edward Kelley, in Newbury, yesterday morning. Her death will be widely mourned not only by a legion of friends but by a host of pupils, who in her praiseworthy career as a teacher of over 20 years, had been under her careful, refining influence. As an instructor she gave a full measure of devotion to her pupils, their aims, their hopes and their aspirations. Personally, she was a most lovable character, gentle, kind and devoted to those subtle things of life that never failed to charm and to edify. With an intelligent vision and equipped with a natural aptitude for study and the compelling things of life, she never seemed to have exhausted her, and often she planned diligently for the comfort and enlightenment of her pupils, not only in the curriculum of the school, but in over so many little essentials that showed that her whole nature was bound up in her profession.
For almost four decades a teacher in one of the largest elementary schools of this city, in that period of years she had contributed abundantly to the making of character in the lives of hundreds of young men and women, and her compensation in this regard she always felt was far greater in seeing these young people succeed in life after years than any that might be measured by more monetary reward. She was a valued member of the executive committee of the Lowell Teachers' association, an active member since its inception of the League of Catholic Women, a member of the Middlesex women's club and treasurer of the Butler school branch of the Red Cross. She was a member of St. Peter's parish.

WALTER E. GUYETTE, Auctioneer
Office, 53 Central Street, Lowell, Mass. Telephone 2415.

Administrator's sale at public auction of the estate of Catherine F. Cusack, late of Lowell, deceased, consisting of two cottage houses, and about seven and one-half acres of land situated in South Lowell, Mass., at Nos. 234-260 Woburn street, also lot of 7650 square feet adjoining the above and fronting on Circuit avenue, the same to be sold all in one lot to the highest bona fide bidder, at absolute and unrestricted public sale, on SATURDAY, THE 23rd DAY OF OCT., 1920, AT 3.30 O'CLOCK P. M.

By virtue of a license granted to me by the Probate Court, I will sell to whomsoever will bid the most the above situated properties, comprising two cottage houses, and a lot of seven and one-half acres and a lot of 7650 square feet of land, in one lot.

The cottage at No. 234 Woburn street has six rooms, three rooms on the first floor, of parlor, dining-room, and kitchen, and three chambers on the second floor. The house is supplied with gas throughout, and has city water. In the rear of the building is shed and laundry. At No. 260 Woburn street is a two-story dwelling and stable, the house has eight good size rooms, has gas throughout, and city water. There are reception hall, parlor, dining-room with china closet, kitchen, pantry and one bedroom on the first floor, and four pleasant chambers on the floor above.

The lot of seven and one-half acres has a frontage on Woburn street of 392 feet, more or less, and a depth of about 150 feet. The land is well situated for use as a city farm, or could easily be sub-divided into building lots, and its location directly on the electric car line, and being but a single car fare, close to church, school, etc., gives it an added value for future improvement; it is within a very short distance of a considerable real estate development, and this section is regarded and is known particularly as a home locality.

The lot adjoining contains 7650 square feet, has a frontage on Circuit avenue of 90 feet, and a depth of 55 feet. This lot adjoins the building at No. 234 Woburn street, and its dimensions make it a splendid building lot and is situated within half a mile of the city of Woburn street, and is in a neighborhood where about everyone owns their own home.

This sale should especially attract all classes interested in real estate, the home-seeker, the investor, and the speculator, as the dwellings are rented and can be made most attractive with a small outlay, and also with the large tract of land, it can be used by investor or speculator, by subdivision, and erection of homes, which will receive a ready market, and for the home-seeker, the chance to occupy one dwelling, and rent the other, and use the large area for farm purposes, if he so chooses.

TERMS: $400 must be paid to the auctioneer just as soon as the property is struck off. Other terms made known at sale.
By order of John J. O'Connell, Administrator, of the Estate of Catherine F. Cusack.

J. Henry Gilbride, Atty.

OFFICE, 162 MARKET STREET, LOWELL, MASS.

THE BARTLETT SCHOOL LAND SITUATED AT THE CORNER OF CLARK STREET AND HANCOCK AVENUE, LOWELL, MASS., WILL BE SOLD AT PUBLIC AUCTION.

TUESDAY, OCTOBER 19, 1920, at 3 P. M.

By order of the Commissioner of Public Property and Licenses, I shall sell at public auction for the City of Lowell, the land known as the Bartlett school site, containing 10,000 square feet of land, more or less, situated within half a mile of the city of Lowell, and about 100 feet on Hancock avenue and about 100 feet on Clark street and about 100 feet on Circuit avenue.

This lot of land, situated in the center of a residential section, facing the North common, and with its large frontage on two streets will make a good building site, and ought to be very attractive to investors.

Per order GEORGE E. MARCHAND, Commissioner of Public Property and Licenses.

WILD—Mrs. Theresa Wild, a prominent young woman of this city and an attendant of the Immaculate Conception church, died yesterday afternoon at St. John's hospital, after a brief illness of several days. She leaves, besides her husband, Thomas, one son, Joseph C., and one daughter, Theresa Wild, all of this city. Her sisters, Mrs. William E. Hayes, Mrs. Margaret Mrs. Mrs. Catherine MacMillan, all of this city, Mrs. Anne Gaffney of Ipswich and Mrs. E. C. Jump of England, and three brothers, Charles, William and Shirley, Edward and William McDevitt, both of England. The body was taken to her home, 27 Chestnut square this afternoon by Undertaker William A. Mack.

SHURTLEFF—Rev. Charles H. Shurtleff, formerly of Lowell, and for six years of the Advent Christian church of this city, died suddenly at Newbury, Vt., Saturday evening. Rev. Mr. Shurtleff resigned his pastorate at the Advent Christian church at Newbury. He came to Lowell for a brief visit to his many friends and returned to Newbury Saturday night. The body will be brought to Lowell for burial.

RIDER—Amos A. Rider died yesterday at the Blanchard hospital, Dracut, aged 77 years. He leaves a wife, Mrs. Matilda M. Haye and one nephew, George W. Haye, both of Lowell, and a niece, Mrs. Minnie Garlow of Newbury. The body was removed to the rooms of Undertaker George W. Healey, 73 Branch street.

ROARK—The funeral of John A. Roark took place this morning from his home, 155 Perry street, at 8:15 o'clock and was largely attended by relatives and friends. The cortege proceeded to the Immaculate Conception church, where a high mass of requiem was celebrated at 9 o'clock by Rev. Owen P. McGowan, O.M.I. The choir sang the Gregorian chant, Miss Isabel McKiernan, Charles P. Smith and John Walker sustaining the solo. Mrs. Hugh Flynn presided at the organ. There were many floral tributes and spiritual bouquets. The bearers were Joseph Riopelle, William Hanley, John Ward, John Roark, Patrick Chumery and Henry Carpenter. Interment was in St. Patrick's cemetery. Rev. Owen P. McGowan, O.M.I., read the prayer. Undertaker George W. Healey, 73 Branch street, was in charge of the funeral arrangements.

MENARD—The funeral of Emory Menard took place this morning from his home, 33 West Tenth street. High mass of requiem was celebrated at St. Louis church at 9 o'clock by Rev. H. Labrosse. The choir, under the direction of O. E. Noel, rendered the Gregorian chant, Miss Ida Mongrain presiding at the organ. The bearers were S. Renaud, J. Vigne, E. Poiraud, E. Dionne, J. Sauvageau and J. Labasse. Burial was in St. Joseph's cemetery, under the direction of Undertaker Joseph Albert.

WACHSBERG—The funeral of Mrs. John Wachsbarger took place this morning from the home of her daughter, Mrs. Pitta Hall, 3 Illinois avenue, Somerville, at 10 o'clock and was largely attended by many sorrowing relatives and friends. The funeral cortege proceeded to this city where at 10 o'clock at the Immaculate Conception church a solemn high mass of requiem was celebrated with Rev. Lawrence F. Tighe, O.M.I., the pastor as celebrant. Rev. James H. McCartin, O.M.I., and Rev. Wm. Noon, O.M.I., as sub-celebrants. Solo of the mass were sustained by Miss Isabelle McKiernan and Messrs. Charles P. Smith and James E. Donnelly. The choir, under the direction of Mr. Smith, sang the Gregorian chant. Mrs. Haggerty presided at the organ. There were a profusion of beautiful floral offerings as well as many spiritual bouquets. The casket was borne by the following bearers: Messrs. John J. Hanley, Richard J. Walsh, William Hunt and John Moran. Burial was in the family lot in St. Patrick's cemetery, where the communal prayers were read at 10 o'clock by Rev. Fr. Tighe, O.M.I., assisted by Rev. Fr. McCartin, O.M.I. Funeral arrangements were in charge of Undertakers O'Connell & Fay.

CARD OF THANKS
We, the undersigned, desire publicly to thank our many friends and neighbors for their acts of kindness and expressions of sympathy during our hour of affliction, and for the beautiful floral tributes. We deeply appreciate the kindly efforts to lighten our burden of sorrow and we will ever hold them one and all in loving remembrance.

MISS CARRIE L. BROWN, ARTHUR J. BROWN, MRS. ARTHUR E. BAGSHAW.

STREETS IN BAD SHAPE
Of a total of 153.7 miles of streets in Lowell, 44.65 miles, or 29.2, are in very poor condition, according to a survey which has been prepared by the chamber of commerce under the direction of President William M. Goodell, and which was to have been presented to the committee on streets and highways at a meeting late this afternoon. The meeting was called to consider possible recommendations for the improvement of the city's thoroughfares.

AN HONEST MAN
Diogenes need no longer keep his lantern aloft, for his long sought honest man has at last been found in Lowell. He is James Moran of Appleton street, an elderly man of 60 years, who found a $100 Liberty bond belonging to an elderly lady living at 503 School street, and through an advertisement in The Sun, Saturday, was able to restore the security to its anxious owner. She, in turn, rewarded him for his honesty and feels that he should be publicly commended for his action. Had he been dishonest, she would have suffered a serious loss.

MATRIMONIAL

The marriage of Mr. Alden Wood Sherman of this city and Miss Beatrice Mosely of Arlington took place Saturday evening at St. John's Episcopal church of Arlington, the ceremony being performed by Rev. Charles Taber Hall. The maid of honor was Miss Rosamond Wood of Hudson, N. Y., while the bridesmaids were Miss Aileen Devareaux and Miss Dorothy Munch of Arlington, Miss Leslie Pullen of this city and Miss Margaret S. Trauloff of Fort Thomas, Kentucky. Mr. Frederick Spaulding of New York acted as best man. The ushers were Robert Cushman of this city, General Henderson of Wayland, Harry Sutton of Quincy and Edward Woodward of Lowell. The couple will make their home at 12 Chester street, this city.

Crawford-Nix
Mr. Robert M. Crawford and Miss Florence Nix were married Saturday evening at the home of the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Crawford, 24 Maitland avenue. The best man was Mr. Finley M. Gray, while the bridesmaid was Miss Elizabeth Crawford, a niece of the groom. After Nov. 10 the couple will make their home at 24 Maitland avenue.

Brown-Redway
Mr. Charles B. Brown of Salem, a graduate of Bowdoin college, and Miss Kathryn B. Redway, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles B. Redway of this city, a graduate of Rogers hall and Smith college and well known in local social circles, were married at St. Anne's church Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock. Rev. Appleton Granits officiated. The church was decorated with gladioli, white carnations and palms. The church organist, William C. Heller, played the usual wedding marches. The bride was given away by her father. She was attended by her sister, Miss Frances Redway, as maid of honor, and by five bridesmaids, Misses Barbara Brown and Mary Holden of Lowell, Miss Alva Brown of Salem, a sister of the bridegroom; Miss Marion Redway of Ilion, N. Y., a cousin, and Miss Virginia Harrison of Columbus, Ohio. Mr. A. H. C. Brown of Salem, brother of the bridegroom, was best man and the ushers were Messrs. Albert Redway, brother of the bride; Roger Eastman of Lowell; Olcott Brown of Salem, brother of the bridegroom; John Whitmore and Robert Scamans of Salem and Joseph Woodruff of Springfield. The bride wore her mother's wedding dress of white satin with trimmings and well of lace and carried a bouquet of bouvardia, ranunculus, immortelles and lilies. The ceremony was held at the home of the bride's parents, 33 Mansur street. The home was prettily decorated.

Gosselin-Dubois
A pretty marriage took place this morning at St. Louis church, when Mr. Anthony Gosselin and Miss Dora L. Dubois, two well known people of this city, were united in the bonds of matrimony. The ceremony was performed at 8 o'clock by Rev. E. J. Vincent. During the mass appropriate hymns were sung by the Children of Mary sodality choir, Miss Ida Mongrain presiding at the organ. The bride was attired in white baronet with veil caught up with pearls and carried a shower bouquet of bridal roses. She was attended by Miss Theresa Shark-ey, who wore pink georgette with broad picture hat and carried pink roses. The best man was Mr. August Gosselin. At the close of the mass a wedding breakfast was served at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. O. Dubois, 128 Sixth street, and present at the festivities were immediate relatives of the couple from this city, Manchester, N. H., Quincy, and Boston. Mr. and Mrs. Gosselin, who were the recipients of numerous wedding gifts, left at noon on a honeymoon trip to New York, Atlantic City and Washington. After Dec. 1 they will be at home to their friends at 128 Sixth street.

2500 CIVILIANS
ARE MASSACRED*Slain Upon Orders From Bolshevik Commissions at Berdiank*Two Russian Soviet 'Regiments Surrender to Wranggel—Army Breaking Up

SEBASTOPOL, Oct. 15. (By Associated Press.)—Following the defeat of soviet forces by Gen. Wrangel's army at Simenikovo, two soviet regiments stationed in the village of Ribskoe held a meeting and decided to surrender, according to an official report. They took this action in view of the fact that they were without food, shoes and clothing. Bolshevik authorities are reported to no longer conceal the fact that their army is dissolving and that a winter campaign is impossible under present conditions. Twenty-five hundred soviet prisoners were massacred upon orders from five different commissions during the last days of the Bolshevik occupation of Berdiank, on the northern coast of the Sea of Azov, according to advices. It is said that to be arrested was tantamount to a death sentence, either by starvation, disease or the sword. Prisoners are reported to have become mad houses. Upon leaving, the Bolsheviks carried off all valuables, even taking dresses and bed coverings from women prisoners.

TO PREVENT TRAFFIC IN EMIGRANTS

ROME, Oct. 17.—Italians intending to emigrate to Brazil are warned by Signor Demicheli, commissioner of emigration, that many statements made relative to Brazil are false, including one that land will be given free to Italians settling there. "Italy," he says, "is determined to prevent traffic in emigrants as though they were cattle. I also object to the securing of emigrants through the promise of free transportation to Brazil. No country respecting itself should have recourse to such a system. Brazil, however, has created in Italy, Belgium and France special bureaus of propaganda, which are supplied with large financial means."

Luigi Rossi, minister of colonies, speaking in the chamber of deputies, said today: "Enlistment of emigrants by offering a free voyage to them is unworthy a civilized country, and it might be compared to the white slave traffic. Such attractions as a free voyage are indications of undesirable condition emigrants will find upon their arrival. Otherwise, why do Italian peasants prefer to go to the United States, and pay high rates for their transportation, rather than avail themselves of the offer of a gratuitous journey?"

FIRST VOTERS
HEAR NOMINEES*Gov. Cox Opens His Second Eastern Campaign With
Address at Syracuse, N. Y.*"First Voters' Day" at Sen.
Harding's Front Porch—
Both Discuss Americanism

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Oct. 18.—Governor Cox today opened his second eastern campaign with an address here to first voters, urging them to disregard partisanship and to vote as Americans. "Americanism," he said, "is but another word for construction. Americanization is not selfishness. It means that we love this freedom of America that wherever in the whole world the name of America is mentioned, it shall mean honor, loyalty, progress, humanity and peace. To shout 'America first' and then oppose making America first throughout the world, is to turn our backs on progress and on the ideals which the framers of our great constitution wove into the soul of America."

Therefore, when I talk of the League of Nations, I am presenting no new spirit, but am simply endeavoring to keep the faith of America. Stating that first voters represent a new generation, Governor Cox said that civilization was like a "relay race" each generation taking the ball from the preceding and contributing its share toward world progress.

"Some people," he said, "are not willing to take the ball and thereby lose the race by slipping back."

"There can be nothing more reassuring than that this great army of first voters composed of millions of young men will approach the ballot box with the same sane, patriotic spirit with which they stood in the front trenches. I find that the young men and the mothers will insist that we become a part of the league of nations. The young men who are first voters will find themselves in distinguished company this year, for the mothers of America have been given the rights to which they are entitled. I have no doubt what the mothers will do in the forthcoming election, nor have I a single doubt what the young men will do. Mother and son link the two generations which stand for a peace won by the sons and made permanent by the mothers of America."

The governor's program included an afternoon address at Rochester and a night meeting at Buffalo. Tomorrow he goes to Boston and New Hampshire and on Wednesday to Rhode Island and Connecticut.

At Front Porch
MARION, Ohio, Oct. 18.—First voters' day at Senator Harding's front porch brought to Marion today many delegations of young men and women to hear the senator make a plea for "America first" as the motto of those about to cast their ballots for the first time.

Indiana, Michigan, Pennsylvania, West Virginia and Ohio sent the largest representation, although citizens from many other states were present. Several special trains brought delegations from outside Ohio and many from the cities nearby came by motor. A bicycle division also was one of the features of the parade which preceded the senator's speech.

The Ohio contingent were to have been received tomorrow, but two meetings were combined in order to give the nominee one day of rest before he leaves Wednesday for his last speaking trip of the campaign.

STARVED SELF*Testimony in Superior Court
Regarding Strange Life of Aged Centralville Woman*Witness Says She Lived on Bread and Water With Money in Bank

Remarkable testimony was given in superior court today regarding the alleged eccentricities of an aged Centralville woman, who, it was alleged, had lived in a single small, smoke-filled room, subsisting on bread and water, while there reposed in a trunk belonging to her bank books representing considerable sums of money in Lowell savings banks. The woman, Miss Catherine J. McShea, died April 25, 1919, when over 80 years old. In St. John's hospital, as the result of a fall. The testimony was given in a suit in equity brought by Richard Brabrook Walsh, administrator, against Miss Susan G. Cook of Lowell and Florence G. Cook of Salem, nieces of the deceased. It is alleged in the bill of complaint that the defendants secured the transfer of bank accounts of the deceased to their possession by the use of undue influence, and that the aged woman was of unsound mind at the time the transfers were made shortly before her death.

The bank books were issued by the Lowell Five Cents Savings Bank for $125. Lowell Institution for Savings for $1022.60 and the City Institution for Savings for $1022.50.

The complainant asks for an order from the court compelling the defendants to pay over moneys in their hands and the costs of the suit, and it is left to the jury to determine the issue of fact as to whether deceased was of unsound mind.

HIGH PRICES OF FOOD BEING INVESTIGATED

BOSTON, Oct. 18.—Restaurant keepers from many places in the state responded today to the invitation of United States Attorney Daniel J. Gallagher to confer with him on complaints that they have been exacting excessive prices for food. In issuing the call for the meeting, the federal attorney said its purpose was to give the proprietors of eating houses an opportunity to present their side of the case.

Items which he thought required an explanation included profit running to 100 per cent on vegetables, the sale of corn at 40 cents an ear; coffee at 10 cents a cup, and pie at 20 cents a cut. Departments of justice investigators had provided him also with a list of restaurants where charges at certain restaurants were double or triple the original cost of the commodities employed in making the dishes.

Y. M. C. A. MEMBERSHIP DRIVE OPENED TODAY

The membership drive of the local Y.M.C.A. association opened this morning under the direction of General Secretary J. P. Howe. In a statement this morning the secretary announced that the drive would be comparatively quiet, no membership team being appointed for solicitation. All those interested in membership of the association are urged to sign up at the local building. A number of other associations in the state are clubbing together with Lowell to raise their number of members.

Members of the Lowell Y.M.C.A. board of directors and of the general staff will travel to Lynn this evening to participate in the celebration attending the dedication of the new Y.M.C.A. building in that section. Governor Carl Milliken of Maine will be the principal speaker; entertainment will be furnished by the famous Lotus quartet of Boston.

The first of a regular series of "Saturday nights" was staged at the local Y.M.C.A. last Saturday evening, with between 250 and 300 men present for the entertainment. Each Saturday night until further notice programs of entertainments will be staged in the lobby of the association building for members of the organization and their friends. The first one was comprised of character readings by Frederick Hopkins, literary secretary of the building, ballad singing by Floyd S. Hodrick and vocal solos by Raymond H. Raub of the Community Service. Mr. Raub led the assembly in group singing and was so enthusiastically received that he used all his songs during the hour or more in which he was the director and was requested to be present at next Saturday evening's meeting. He taught those present many new, catchy songs. Mrs. Chester Magee rendered piano selections. The moving pictures which were flashed upon the screen consisted of Travelers and comedy and were very entertaining.

Next Saturday night there will be orchestral entertainment from 7 to 8 o'clock and special stunts by the members of the association. On last Saturday night refreshments were served by Mrs. Frank Hall and mem-

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18.—President Wilson today addressed a letter to Senator Harding relative to the republican nominee's statement of Saturday that he had been approached "informally" by a representative of the French government, relative to a new association of nations.

Quoting from a despatch dated St. Louis, Oct. 16, purporting to report the statement of Senator Harding, the president said: "I need not point out to you the grave and extraordinary inference to be drawn from such a statement, namely, that the government of France, which is a member of the League of Nations, approached a private citizen of a nation which is not a member of the league, with a request 'that the United States lead the way to a world fraternity.'"

Declaring that the state department "had always found the government of France most honorably mindful of its international obligations and punctiliously careful to observe all the proprieties of international intercourse," the president wrote that he hesitated "to draw the inference to which I have referred unless I am assured by you that you actually made the statement."

President Wilson also directed an inquiry to the French government as to the republican candidate's statement.

Members of her committee, Mrs. Plaisted, Mrs. Magee, Mrs. Adams, and Miss Hall.

The important dates of activities at the association during the present week are as follows:

Monday evening, bowling league on association alleys.
Tuesday evening, meeting of the board of directors with Dr. John W. Brown, head of the physical department of the Y.M.C.A. of the United States as speaker besides E. W. Hearn, state secretary of the Y.M.C.A., and Louis A. Crosswell.

Wednesday evening Dormitory supper at 8 o'clock for men living in the association building.

Thursday evening Fletcher S. Brockman, associate general secretary of the Y.M.C.A. of United States, associated with Dr. John Mott, will be the guest of the association and will speak in the afternoon to the members of the Lowell Textile school.

Friday night, Sunday School bowling league.
Saturday night, regular "Saturday-nighter."

The regular gym classes will be held on all nights of the week.

CORK, Oct. 18.—The death last night of Michael Fitzgerald, first of the eleven hunger strikers in the Cork jail to succumb to the results of their fast of more than two months, will probably have a bad effect upon the other hunger strikers, according to the jail doctors. Although the men occupy separate cells, it is difficult to keep news of what is happening from reaching them.

Joseph Murphy, Sean Hennessy and several of the other fasting prisoners are now so low that the end is expected shortly.

BROWN TRIAL*Judge Abbott Makes Dra-

for Time by Discovery of Wife's Unfaithfulness

OSHEEP, N. H., Oct. 18.—George Brown, who is on trial for the murder of Richard Duan at Sandwich, on Feb. 9, was pictured in his counsel's closing plea today, as a man who was driven insane for the time being by the discovery of his wife's unfaithfulness. The prisoner sat through the long argument by Judge Sewall W. Abbott of Wolfboro, his senior counsel, without much sign of emotion, but Mrs. Brown was apparently deeply stirred. She kept her handkerchief at her face almost constantly and was frequently shaken by sobs. Mrs. Dunn, the widow of the slain man, remained dry-eyed and attentive.

A large part of the population of this village attended the closing session of the trial, and many persons unable to get into the court room lingered outside all day.

Judge Abbott told the jury that the burden of proof lay with the state to show that Brown was not insane and that it was not necessary for the defense to bring positive proof of insanity. In his remarks, he made a reference to the attorney general which led Judge John Kivel, who presided, to direct him to keep to the issues involved in the case. Those issues Judge Kivel said were the questions of murder in the first degree, murder in the second degree and insanity.

The argument of Atty. Gen. Oscar L. Young for the state and the judge's charge to the jury were expected to occupy the entire afternoon.

SENATE PROBES
RESUME INQUIRY*To Delve Into Democratic Preconvention Campaign in Missouri*Investigate Payment of Expenses of Delegates to Conventions

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Oct. 18.—The senate committee investigating campaign expenditures today resumed its inquiry here into the democratic preconvention campaign in Missouri.

The committee planned to delve further into the activities in behalf of Attorney General A. Mitchell Palmer, and summoned Edward F. Goltra of St. Louis, national committeeman. Payment of expenses of delegates to the democratic state convention at Joplin and the national convention at San Francisco was under investigation.

According to testimony at a previous hearing Goltra distributed about $2000 among delegates to the Joplin convention to help defray expenses. He has formally denied, however, that any financial assistance was given to the San Francisco delegation.

The campaigns of Senator Selden S. Spencer, republican, who is a member of the committee and his democratic opponent, Breckenridge Long, also will come within the scope of the inquiry, according to Senator Reed of Missouri, who is a member of the committee.

The portraits were painted by John M. L. Forster of Toronto.

FIRTH SURRENDERS
Tells Police He is Wanted
for Murder of Woman

ROCKPORT, Me., Oct. 18.—James Firth, the elderly watchmaker, who claimed when he surrendered to the police at Hartford, Conn., late last night that he was wanted for the murder of a woman here, five years ago and that a reward of $3000 had been offered for his capture, was unknown here, the police said today. They were awaiting details from Hartford. There is no record of a murder here at that time.

IRISH HUNGER STRIKER DIES AFTER 68-DAY FAST

CORK, Oct. 18. (By the Associated Press.)—The first death among the hunger strikers in Cork jail occurred last night. Fitzgerald died at 5:45 o'clock, having fasted 68 days. The condition of Fitzgerald and Murphy had become so serious yesterday that with the consent of the other hunger strikers the prison doctors were permitted to give Fitzgerald medical treatment. A Cork specialist also was called in. Fitzgerald was placed under arrest for shooting Private Jones outside Fermoy church on Sept. 7, 1919. Fitzgerald was one of the 11 men on a hunger strike in the Cork jail whose cases for a long time have been the source of interest on the part of the medical authorities. Nearly a month ago Dr. Pearson and Dr. Battledine, the jail physicians, expressed profound amazement that the men who were abstaining from food were still alive. At last, the physicians said that except for the devotion and care of the nuns in attendance upon the prisoners, it was certain that several of them would long since have been dead. All the hunger strikers were reduced to a severe degree of emaciation.

Two Killed in Rioting
BELFAST, Oct. 18.—Two deaths occurred yesterday as a result of the rioting in the Morrowbone district of North Belfast. Saturday night. The victims were Matthew McManister and William Mitchell, who succumbed to gunshot wounds. One man was killed outright during the rioting and several others were seriously injured.

Sergeant Shot Dead
DUBLIN, Oct. 18.—Sergeant Roche of the Royal Irish Constabulary, who had just arrived here from Tipperary to identify the body of Mr. Tracer, who was shot during the disturbances in Talbot street, Friday, was shot dead yesterday afternoon on the Ormond quay. A man and a girl also were wounded by the shots of his assailants.

A former soldier named Robinson who was shot Friday night in Dublin by two men describing themselves as republican police, died last night. Constable Flaherty, while on patrol duty in Londonderry, late Saturday night, was killed by shots fired by some unknown persons.

PREDICTS WAR WITH U. S. WITH IRELAND FREE

DUNDEE, Scotland, Oct. 17.—Danger of embroilment with the United States if the north and south of Ireland were left to fight out their own differences was predicted by Winston Spencer Churchill, the secretary for war, in his speech last night in which he referred at length to the Irish situation.

Mr. Churchill, after asserting that such a course would lead to civil war "on such an organized scale that it would be disastrous and more terrible than could be imagined," declared that it would mean that in England sympathy would develop in favor of Ulster.

Influential persons in the United States, he said, sympathized with the south of Ireland, and while volunteers would leave England for the north of Ireland, reinforcements would come from the United States for the south-west.

That, added the war secretary, would create such tension that Great Britain would be faced with the greatest danger it could be confronted with, namely, a quarrel with the United States.

"Two or three years more of what we are going through," he said, "appears better to me than that we should leave Ireland to herself and thus open the floodgates of organized war, and later embroil us with the United States."

Mr. Churchill previously in his speech had declared that the reign of terror in Ireland would be suppressed and that it would then be time for a complete settlement of the Irish question.

The world's production of coal is estimated by the United States Geological survey as 1,170,000,000 metric tons in 1919 (metric ton of 2,205 pounds), as compared with 1,332,000,000 metric tons in 1913.

CANT Express Her Gratitude. Fall River Woman Says She is Just Like a New Person Since Taking Tanlac.

"Words simply can't express the suffering I went through, neither can they express my gratitude for the wonderful relief Tanlac has given me," declared Mrs. John Entwistle, of 39 Horton street, Fall River, Mass., who has resided in that city for the past seventeen years.

"For four years I suffered dreadfully, I didn't have any appetite, and just the sight of food nauseated me. No matter how careful I was, the little I ate bloated me up with gas which pressed up against my heart, causing terrible knife-like pains, making me think I had heart trouble."

"My kidneys bothered me a great deal, and when I would bend over I had such awful catches in my back that it simply seemed like it would break in two. I had terrible dizzy spells, and was so nervous and restless I didn't know what it was to get a good night's sleep. I would get up in the morning feeling worse than when I went to bed, and was forced to neglect a large part of my housework. I became very much discouraged over my failure to find something that would help me."

"A lady at New Bedford told me that Tanlac had made a new woman out of her, and made me promise to try it, although I had little faith in it helping me. I never was so surprised, for although it's only a little while since I started on the medicine, I've gotten rid of that stomach trouble and nervousness. My kidneys no longer bother me, and I'm free from bloating and those awful pains around my heart and in my back. I sleep like a child every night, and simply feel like a new woman. I'm going to take a little more Tanlac just to make sure of my present good health, and I wish every sick person in the world knew about the medicine."

Tanlac is sold in Lowell by Greens drug store, Merrimack square, under the personal direction of a special Tanlac representative and by the leading druggist in every town.—Adv.

FIRE AUTO KILLS TWO

Apparatus Crashes Through Building in Brockton—Girl May Die

BROCKTON, Oct. 18.—Two men were killed, a girl was probably fatally injured and four other persons were seriously hurt late yesterday when a motor combination crashed into a store front when responding to a fire alarm. The men killed were William J. Sullivan, 45 years of age, and John Johnson, 18.

Mrs. Esther Bergman was in a critical condition last night at a hospital. Patrolman Frank S. Bonney and three firemen also were taken to the hospital.

The accident happened when Frank Gaffney, driver of the apparatus, attempted to turn from North Main st. into Ames street. It is alleged that he made the turn too short, and that the truck went up on the sidewalk. Sullivan and Johnson, who were standing in front of the store, were crushed. The truck smashed right through the front of the building, ran the length of the store and broke through the rear wall.

Miss Bergman was standing with Johnson. Patrolman Bonney was engaged in pushing the crowd back and the three firemen were on the truck. Gaffney was only slightly hurt.

Police Find Large Sum in Tramp's Clothes

N.E.A. Staff Special
MONROE, Wis., Oct. 18.—Sam Haack was arrested when found calmly smoking a cigar in a farmer's haymow. He was charged with vagrancy and released on $1000 bail.

He pleaded not guilty and when officers searched him they found: A tobacco bag sewed to his trousers leg containing $700.

WHAT THE GROCER EATS

Of course your grocer has to eat - and what he and his family eat is a safe guide for you. Every one of our five hundred thousand distributors knows the food value of Shredded Wheat Biscuit. They know it is 100 per cent whole wheat, that it has more strength-giving nutriment than meat or eggs, that it is the most real food for the least money. Two Biscuits with milk make a nourishing meal. Ask your grocer about it.

AMERICAN RED CROSS ROLL CALL

The annual American Red Cross roll call, designed to enlist members in that society, will open in Lowell on Armistice day, Nov. 11, and continue through the month of November. Fred F. Hayward, who was prominent in various drives held here during the war, will be chairman of the campaign and George A. Stewart, another experienced campaigner in such work, will be assistant chairman.

Mrs. John K. Whittier will be in charge of supplies for the campaign, such as posters, buttons and other materials. Headquarters of the campaign will be in the office of the North Middlesex Chapter, Red Cross, at 81 Merrimack street. Robert F. Marden, president of the chapter, has sent out letters to all former Red Cross campaigners, asking them to assist in the 1920 drive.

As a preliminary to the roll call the New England division of the Red Cross is to hold a general meeting at Edison hall in Kirk street, this city, at 2:30 p. m., Oct. 27. Various officials of the organization from this state and New Hampshire will speak. Daily luncheons which were a feature of Red Cross and similar campaigns during the war will be eliminated in this year's drive and workers will simply report results to George R. Chandler, treasurer of the campaign, at the Union bank, or to the Red Cross headquarters at 81 Merrimack street. Only one luncheon will be held—that at the wind-up of the drive. The managers are anxious to have the campaign as simple as possible.

Despite the fact that the war has ceased, the Red Cross is still as active as ever in reconstruction work and as in the past, its endeavors are limited only by the strength of its membership. Hence, an appeal will be made to have every man, woman and child in North Middlesex county join the ranks, after the campaign opens Nov. 11.

Don't Prod Your Liver to Action

NR Overcomes Bilelessness, Constipation, Sick Headache, Indigestion, No Griping or Pain. Guaranteed.

The organs of digestion, assimilation and elimination—the stomach, liver and bowels—are closely allied, and the proper action of any of these organs is largely dependent upon the correct functioning of all the others. "Whipping" your liver into action with calomel or forcing your bowels with irritating laxatives or strong cathartics is a great mistake. A better, safer plan is strengthening and toning the whole digestive and eliminative system with Nature's Remedy (NR) Tablets, which not only bring immediate relief, but genuine and lasting benefit. It acts on the stomach, liver, bowels and kidneys, improves digestion, corrects constipation and quickly relieves sick headache. Get your system thoroughly cleaned and purified for once, stomach, liver and bowels working together in vigorous harmony, and you will not have to take medicine every day—just take one NR Tablet occasionally to keep your system in good condition and always feel your best. Remember it is easier and cheaper to keep well than it is to get well and try it with the understanding that it must give you greater relief and benefit than any bowel or liver medicine you ever used or no pay. Nature's Remedy (NR) Tablets is sold, guaranteed and recommended by your druggist.

CELTIC FOLK MUSIC

Fine Lecture and Recital by
Benedict Fitzgerald

The League of Catholic Women formally opened its 1920-21 season yesterday afternoon in Lincoln hall with a splendid lecture and recital of Celtic folk music, given by Benedict Fitzgerald, assisted by Mrs. Morris Berenson of Boston. Mr. Fitzgerald is a student of the history and construction of music and has devoted deeply into the lore of Celtic melodies. Mrs. Berenson recently returned from Italy where she has been studying.

A capacity attendance marked the opening meeting. The president, Mrs. Alice T. Lee, presided. After the singing of Cardinal O'Connell's hymn to the Blessed Virgin, Rev. Joseph A. Curran, spiritual director of the organization, gave the invocation. Mrs. Lee announced the death of several valued members of the league, Mrs. Katherine Kane and Mrs. William Doherty. Just before the meeting she was notified of the death of Mrs. Katherine Kelley, a charter member of the organization, who had served on many committees and shared in every activity. In the league office is a large steel engraving, the gift of Mrs. Kelley. Prayers were then offered for the deceased members.

Mrs. Lee spoke of the organization of the various standing committees and told of their plans for the season, as follows:

Membership: Miss Mary Wood, chairman.

House: Mrs. George Allard, chairman.

Finance: Mrs. John Saunders, chairman.

Program: Mrs. John T. Donohue, chairman. Mrs. Donohue has not yet completed her program for the year. It will be announced at the next meeting, when Mrs. Martha Moore, secretary, will speak on "Katherine of Arragon." A special musical program will precede the lecture.

Civics: Miss Mary Lane, chairman.

Taste Good

Creates an appetite, aids digestion, purifies the blood, and thus relieves scrofula, catarrh, the pains and aches of rheumatism and gives strength to the whole system.

Nearly 50 years' phenomenal sales tell the story of the great merit and success of Hood's Sarsaparilla. It is just the medicine you need now. Hood's Pills help—fine cathartic.

Class meetings will be held twice a month at the league office at 4.30 sharp at which there will be talks on topics concerning city, state and nation. Visits to the state house when general court is in session are also planned. Evening classes for those who desire lessons in citizenship are also to be formed. A sub-committee on legislation, Mrs. Charles Devane, chairman, will keep the class informed as to bills before congress and the state legislature. The first meeting of the Margaret Brent civics class will be held Thursday, Oct. 21, at 4.30 p. m. Joseph P. Donohue will address the meeting on national problems.

Educational: Miss Grace C. Delany, chairman. This committee has compiled a number of familiar hymns as well as a number of new ones and is now negotiating to have them printed in booklet form. It will be known as the League Hymnal and will supplement the cardinal's hymn book already in use. Miss Delany has also perfected the organization of classes in home nursing, cooking, dressmaking and millinery. A Christmas gift class is also to be organized for charitable purposes.

Social Service: Mrs. David Mahoney, chairman. One afternoon a week will be devoted to sewing for institutions or individuals. A bureau of information will also be conducted by this committee.

The Junior dramatic club organized for the presentation of children's play, will continue its work this year. The orchestra will again be under the direction of Miss Marie J. C. O'Donnell and will appear at the next meeting. New members are cordially invited to join. Mr. J. A. Handley is again in charge of the mandolin club and rehearsals are now in progress. Mrs. Joseph Green will be the league community singing leader.

In order that the members may become acquainted with each other, a series of socials is planned to be held under the direction of Mrs. J. Rediker. The first will take place in Eagle hall, Harrington building, October 27. Mr. Fitzgerald treated the subject of Celtic music in an exhaustive manner after he had been introduced. He said that the Celts were noted as excellent harpists years before Christ. One authority says that they had the diatonic scale, supposed to have been discovered by the Italians in the 11th century. The secret of the charm of Celtic music, however, he said, lay in the fact that most of it was based on the pentatonic scale. He said that there are three kinds of Celtic music: sleep-producing, mirth-provoking and tear-inducing. He illustrated each type with selections assisted by Mrs. Berenson.

The speaker traced the development of Celtic music through the Elizabethan period and illustrated on the piano how the work of Beethoven, in some instances is based on Irish airs. He spoke of the work of Thomas Moore and said that if he had kept the old Irish music and used his words with it, the result would have been wonderful, but Moore insisted on changing the words. Mr. Fitzgerald pointed out how modern composers were influenced by the old Celtic airs. Mrs. Berenson was delighted in the series of selections she gave to illustrate the speaker's points.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

By Theatres' Own Press Agents

THE STRAND

Eugene O'Brien, one of the prime favorites of the screen, will be seen in "The Wonderful Chance" at the Strand for the first three days of the week, starting with matinee today. This play is a wonderfully interesting crook story, in which the star portrays the role of "Swagger" Barlow, an evil-doer, who decides to go straight. After he has decided to change his mode of livelihood the opportunity presents itself whereby he can do one of his best. Who is sick and in dire need, a good turn. While he is trying to accomplish this he gets the big idea and then develops some rather interesting situations. Mr. O'Brien's interpretation of the crook is decidedly interesting.

The other picture feature presents Tami Aoki (Mrs. Sessue Hayakawa) in the latest film triumph, "Ashes of Desire." It's a story of the Orient, in which some Americans play an important part. It has action and love interest in happy combination. A good comedy and weekly will also be shown.

OPERA HOUSE

A new Comstock and Gest production, entitled "The Cave Girl" by George Middleton and Guy Bolton, will be the attraction by the Lowell Players at the Opera House for the present week. The first performances will be given this afternoon and tonight. Messrs. Middleton and Bolton are the authors of "Polly with a Past" and "Adam and Eve," two of the most delightful comedies the stage has seen in recent seasons, and naturally any new play from the pens of such worthy authors is deserving of unusual attention.

and consideration. As might be inferred from its title, the comedy is written around a fascinating though primitive type of a girl, who has spent her entire life in the Maine woods. The piece is drawn in contrasting types cleverly drawn, and the dialogue is of the sharp, witty kind for which these well known authors have achieved a reputation. If their previous pieces the authors directed their satirical shafts at the smart Long Island set. In this newest piece they have gone to the woods of northern Maine for their locale. The story has to do with the untutored and primitive type of girl, Margaret Fantare, who has spent most of her life in the Maine woods. By way of proving that nature is a great teacher, the author shows in what manner this girl measured up to some of her more fortunate sisters from the city, when obliged to shed all the prettiness of civilization.

Miss Margaret Fields will appear in the role of the "cave girl," which was so cleverly portrayed by Grace Valentine during its recent run at the Globe theatre, Boston. The other characters will be in the hands of the best of the Merrimack square theatre today, tomorrow and Wednesday, is a play replete with scenic beauty, true characterizations and more than ordinary interest with its rugged folks of the New England coast, played against a background of marine beauty. The story is not only unique, but it is so true to life that it never fails to interest. The action commences at a fashionable dinner in a big city; sweeps the beholder up to the New England coast; and then back again. Other features of the current program include a Sennett comedy, "A Dramatic Cartoon" is their little offering, and there are many reasons why it has got such a strong hold on audiences everywhere. In the first place it is a very human little play, an absolutely faithful portrayal of an incident in the lives of a young married couple, and, in all probability, it has occurred in the lives of hundreds of others. Humor and pathos are genuinely human emotions, and they are given splendid play in this "cartoon." The acting of the principal characters is very carefully done.

A real Lowell favorite is James D. Donovan, "the King of Ireland," who, with Miss Marie Lee, "the dancing butterfly," will give their humorously exciting skit called "Doing Well, Thank You." Mr. Donnelly is far from being unknown here. He has many friends in this city, who will be specially anxious to hear him once more in his merry songs and quips, and who will desire to see Miss Lee dance. Her work is faultless.

Again the management will score in a novelty way, this time with Al Almont and Mlle. Delmont in a novelty singing, instrumental and comedy act. Mr. Almont is the inventor of two most peculiar musical instruments, which, while they are strange in appearance, emit wonderfully beautiful tones. They are the "septophone" and the "chony vox humana trumpet." The act differs materially from any other musical turn in vogue.

An act that has the word "circus" written all over it is that to be presented by Corradini's animals, which are, in fact, eight dogs, two monkeys and a pony. Continuously are the animals performing, and it is said to be the fastest animal act in the varieties.

The very newest "single" woman on the stage is Dorothy Wahl, who, after appearing with male partners the past few years, has decided to go out and do her own act. She is a decided hit in her work. Not only does she sing, but she is a jester of rare worth. Tommy Gordon does what he does to Constance.

Constance Talmadge in "The Perfect Woman," is the stellar attraction showing at the Rialto theatre Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of this week. The picture is an enticing story of how a pretty woman conquered half a dozen Bolshevik agents and grasped a multi-millionaire woman later from their hands, eventually "ramping" her way into his heart for a place as his wife. "Hell's Oasis" forms the supporting part of the big bill, with Warner Oland in the thrilling serial, "Third Eye." Hank Mann is "Hot Dog," a screaming comedy and a series of Fox News of the latest interest. It is a program well worth seeing and will afford plenty of enjoyment for all.

REPUBLICANS TO VOTE FOR COX

Over 100 Representative Republicans and Progressives Issue Statement

To Support all Candidates "Who Stand Honestly for Adherence to League"

NEW YORK, Oct. 15.—A joint statement by over 100 representative men and women who have usually supported the republican or progressive ticket, "announcing their intention to vote for Cox and Roosevelt and those senatorial candidates who stand honestly and frankly for ratification of the treaty adherence to the league" was made public here last night by Hamilton Holt, magazine editor.

This statement set forth that "it is now too late to talk of a new association of nations to be created under republican auspices" and repudiating the present republican leadership that "has permitted the republican and progressives to become a 'little America' party," urged all republicans and progressives to "put patriotism above party" and add their names to the list of signers.

This list, according to Mr. Holt, is increasing daily. An analysis given out with the statement said that it included 15 republican officers of the

DARTMOUTH SENIOR FOUND MURDERED

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 18.—The police are looking for the murderer of 23-year-old Elmer C. Drewes of 4233 Pine street, a senior at Dartmouth college, whose body was found by a lamplighter at Adams lane and city line in Oak lane at 6.30 yesterday morning.

Drewes lay on his back at the foot of the lamppost. His hands were folded over his chest. His overcoat had been removed and draped over the lower part of his body. Over his left eyebrow was a bullet hole. No weapon was found nearby. Evidently he had been brought there and left by his murderer.

The place where the body was found is a lonely and unfrequented spot; the nearest house being a quarter of a mile away. Wheel marks of an automobile, where it had stopped by the side of the road and turned around were found nearby. Drewes knew few persons in Philadelphia, according to his father, who was convinced that his son had not voluntarily given up his plan to start immediately for college, but had been stopped through force or fraud.

In the pockets of his clothes were a Philadelphia & Reading railroad ticket to Reading, Penn., $20 in cash, a watch, $500 in Liberty bonds, two checks for $100 signed by his father, Christian T. Drewes, and a slip of paper on which was his name and the address, 20 South Massachusetts ave., Hanover, N. H. His rings were on his fingers.

The father later identified the body of his son. He said he left him at 9.30 Saturday night. Elmer intended to go to Reading to buy an automobile by which he expected to travel to Dartmouth. He was alone the last time the father saw him.

Mrs. Drewes, who was seen at her home yesterday afternoon before she was aware of the disaster which had overtaken her son, told the reason for her son's absence from Dartmouth.

"He came down Friday on a business trip," she said, "and stopped at New York to see Charles Shaloss, a friend, who owed him some money. They told him Charles was in Atlantic City and so Elmer went down there. He came home about half-past five Saturday afternoon and said he was glad he got the money. It was $100. Fifty of it Shaloss had borrowed from my son and $50 from Elmer's sister. He left home Saturday night about 8.30 to go back to college."

Elmer was a graduate of the Central high school and of the Plattsburg officers' training camp. He served as an instructor during the war. Last summer, with the rank of first lieutenant he was an instructor at the Students' Army Training camp at Princeton university. He was obliged to complete his last year of college at Dartmouth in 1921 and next year planned to enter the graduate school of finance and commerce at that institution. His mother said he was an earnest student and "didn't have any time for the girls."

Shaloss, the last friend whom his parents know Elmer to have seen, was said by Mrs. Drewes to be the son of Julius Shaloss of New York, and a nephew of Mr. and Mrs. J. Wertheim of 183 West 58th street, New York. His father died two years ago. On coming of age last September, Charles Shaloss became heir to $100,000 of his father's estate. Of this $55,000 is in trust until he is 45 years old. The rest is at his disposal, and according to Mrs. Drewes, he is getting the full advantage of his money in New York, Atlantic City, and elsewhere.

"He has a fine big automobile," said the mother of the dead boy, "but he doesn't work or go to college and I've told my boy to stop going with him."

Detective Heshaw of the city hall murder squad, and Detectives Graham and Reeves of the Oak Lane police station are working on the case. They say they have several clues.

The police were forced to abandon a theory that Drewes had shot himself accidentally while in the company of

DEFECTS IN OUR CHARTER

Now that the hearings on amendments to the city charter before the charter commission are nearing a close, we deem it expedient to present in a brief way, a number of the main defects of the present charter which we have been discussing for the past year.

(1) In the first place, the present form of municipal government is a headless body as the members in session have equal power and authority. There is, therefore, no proper executive head to represent the city in directing or protecting its interests. The mayor should not be a member of the commission. Under present conditions the office of mayor is an honorary position to which considerable work is attached with little or no executive power and little extra compensation.

(2) The commission is too small as three members forming a majority can assume entire control of the most important affairs of the city and may thus do irreparable damage through inexperience, incompetency, dishonesty, or by using the resources of the city thus placed in their hands to perpetuate themselves in office.

(3) The commission is vested with the legislative and executive functions of government which is against all the well established customs of government because it offers too much opportunity for abuse of power as, for example, in voting money for their respective departments while they themselves are the ones in whose hands is placed the spending of that money.

(4) The commissioners are elected without reference to any particular department and in many cases are assigned to departments for which they have no qualifications whatever. (5) Despite his ignorance of the department over which he is placed, any commissioner can suppress the competent superintendent and turn the department into a political machine. Most people familiar with municipal affairs can recall a number of cases in which this was actually done. The city paid the heads of these departments although their duties were usurped by the commissioners. This was a case of the blind leading those who can see.

(6) Owing to the attraction offered to professional politicians by the salary, our municipal elections have become very largely a scramble between candidates who devote much of their time to politics and who have built up political machines. Owing to the methods adopted and the difficulty of defeating a candidate with a city department or other organization behind him, it is almost impossible to induce a plain representative business man to run for the municipal council. When unscrupulous get in, it is very difficult to get them out.

(7) It thus appears that the charter places an insuperable obstacle against the election of representative business men and that in consequence the charge that the city is to blame for the unsatisfactory conditions thus resulting is clearly absurd and a libel upon the people who are always desirous of better government.

(8) The business men thus debarré from participating in our city government would gladly give their services in a legislative body free of charge, and would do so better than that function is now exercised by paid commissioners.

(9) The present system tends to set the municipal departments in rivalry, one against the other, instead of uniting and co-ordinating their efforts for the public good.

(10) With each commissioner concerned chiefly with his own departments and nobody in particular responsible for the welfare of the city in general, it is but reasonable to assume that the city will not grasp its opportunities for progress as readily as it should. This is one of the gravest defects of the present commission charter. It is more a lack of proper system than of first class men; but when both operate together at the same time, as is liable to be the case, then the result is highly detrimental to our city.

This enumeration of defects may be set down as destructive criticism and it may be said that we have offered no proper substitute. We have repeatedly pleaded for a single chamber sufficiently large to ensure a reasonable number at all times to deal with the city's business. The larger the number the more representative will the council be, and the more general will be the interest taken in our municipal affairs. The mayor should be a real executive officer vested with the veto power and the power of appointment and removal of the heads of departments subject to the confirmation of the council. Under the old charter the unlimited power of appointment was given to the mayor; but as soon as a democratic mayor—William F. Courtney—was elected, the republicans hurried to the legislature and had it repealed.

From the various statements made before the charter commission relative to the essential features of a good city charter, the commission will undoubtedly be able to gather from the consensus of opinion what the citizens want and what will best serve the city's interests.

FARMERS STRUCK HARD

The farmers of the country have raised a great howl against the prospect of falling prices by which they would be deprived of a reasonable profit for their farm products of the present year. They produced their crops when prices of labor and material were at the highest, but now that the crops have been harvested, the farmers look forward to financial disaster as a result of falling prices. The cotton growers of the south are probably threatened with a more serious loss than any other class. As a result a movement has been started for the wanton destruction of cotton and cotton gins in order to re-establish the law of supply and demand and thus avert bankruptcy among the planters.

The American Cotton Association is opposed to this movement and treats it as a sort of insurgency which is emphatically condemned by the leadership of the association. It is admitted, however, that if the farmers have to sell their cotton at present prices, they will have to mortgage their homes in order to meet the difference between the selling price and the cost of production.

Business men who have made a survey of the situation, declare that there is a pressing demand for cotton throughout the world today and that if the farmers had a ready means of exporting it, they could dispose of their surplus supply to advantage. It appears, however, that just at the present time the export business is rather dull, although it had been supposed that the operation of our merchant marine would assist in meeting such emergencies as that which now exists in the cotton belt of the south.

SHOE CITIES DEPRESSED

The distinctively shoe cities are suffering more severely perhaps than those of more diversified industries. The city of Haverhill is practically idle at the present time so far as the shoe shops are concerned. The same is true of the city of Lynn.

The shoe industry has suffered from the same causes that have affected other industries, notably the prevailing high prices, particularly in the high cost of labor and material. Some of these shops manufactured shoes expecting that they could dispose of them readily to European countries, but found that the European nations lacked the money to pay for them. These shoes are now on hand and are not such as would command a ready sale in the American market.

In addition to other troubles, the shoe industry in most cities is under the rigid control of labor unions, that are unwilling to accept any reduction in wages although the manufacturers claim that they cannot maintain their former standards of wages in the face of falling prices and a lack of demand for manufactured goods. There is usually a dull spell in the shoe business in the late summer and early fall, but this year it is assuming more serious proportions and threatening a rather long period of idleness.

OUR CITY TAXES

Many of the taxpayers are grumbling quite bitterly over their tax bills. Some are unable to figure out just how it happens that their bills are so large. There will be a great demand for tax books this year in order to find how the increase in assessment has been applied to property, and whether, as some allege, it has been done without proper regard for system. The tax rate would have been about $32 if the revenue had been raised on the old valuation; but it is but $27.20 under the new scale of assessment with real estate advanced from ten to fifteen per cent. The high valuation is likely to remain long after the present inflated values have tumbled toward the former level.

The man who pays rent may now be in a happier frame of mind than his landlord, but the burden is likely to reach the tenants in due time.

Beginning today, the French government will offer in France for subscription at 6 per cent a new interior loan. The bonds are a direct and absolute obligation of the republic of France to the holder as "perpetual rentes," although the government may redeem them at any time it sees fit on or after January 1, 1931. This loan will help the French republic to meet its obligations and to deal more effectively with the great problems of reconstruction.

Statistics show that railroad stocks have shown a marked increase in price since the recent increase in rates granted by the interstate commerce commission. The average increase in the price of securities of the twelve trunk lines during the period mentioned has been $9 per share. The public would be pleased to hear that the service has improved in a like degree.

Federal District Attorney Gallagher complains that hotel proprietors, who have been summoned before him to tell about high prices have been "sassy." But what's a more direct attorney to men who have sufficient assurance to charge 25 to 45 cents for a potato with spuds selling at retail for 35 cents a peck.

From what has become public trust regarding the Sealeys will contest, it seems regrettable that the details of the case cannot be shrouded in the same secrecy that surrounded most of the acts of the testator when he was alive.

It will be hard to convince Candace "Jimmy" Cox, after tomorrow, that there is any ground for the assertion that New England's welcome to strangers is traditionally cold. But, then, "Jimmy" isn't much of a stranger.

The people of the Highlands have a right to consider that they are some of the best in the world with Commissioners Salmon and Marchand both bidding for the honor of supplying them with a new fire station.

Agent Thomas of the Beatt mill says that two-thirds of the water power of the Merrimack is wasted, and yet war, proud man, puts himself on the back, calls himself intelligent, and arrives at high prices.

There were 2256 auto accidents in Massachusetts in September, which is somewhere about 2600 more than there ought to have been.

MAN ABOUT TOWN

"Haddock, seven cents a pound," "Lemons, 15 cents a dozen," "Sugar, 12 cents a pound," "Concord grapes, 15 cents a basket." When you see signs like these in store windows you can arrive at no other conclusion than that the long awaited, hope-deferred time of lower prices has at last arrived somewhere near the home plate. A year ago it was necessary to open up the pocket book to the extent of 25 or 40 cents to take home a basket of grapes, and lemons were selling for 50 to 60 a dozen. Sugar was paying 25 cents or more a pound for, and felt ourselves lucky if we were able to get enough to keep the sugar bowls full even at that price. Fish prices have not fallen quite as much in proportion as other quotations for the reason, probably, that they were not at a peak so high up in the air to tumble from. The reason why Lowell people do not eat more fish is in the class of unexplainable phenomena. We have the ocean almost at our back door, and it yields an immense quantity of a product that has the very highest food value. Yet most of us prefer to depend upon the western stockyards for a large portion of our nourishment. A Lowell resident found awhile ago, though, that the price of one fish product is away up in the air. What is labelled "salt cod" can be bought sliced, headed or shredded and ready to cook in boxes. The aforesaid resident thought he would like to have one of the old-fashioned slabs of whole codfish, such as used to hang on the wood shed door in the country, and served as a basis for fish dinners that mothers used to make. None could be found in the local stores. A gracer finally volunteered to attempt to locate one in Boston. He succeeded. The price was $2.50. In the old days the fish would have sold for 25 cents.

In regard to the laws and etiquette of our flag, the following is printed from data issued by the secretary of the commonwealth. "The flag should be raised at sunrise and lowered at sunset. It may be raised at other times, but should never be left out at night, except when it is under the care of the enemy." This is one of the laws of the flag which is most consistently violated even by those who by their position should know better. We all have seen American flags floating all night on various buildings, but perhaps many of us have not realized that it was in direct violation of the flag rules. "In raising the flag to half-staff or half-mast, it should always be run to the peak and then lowered one breadth of the flag. In retreating it, it should first be run back to the peak and then retired. It should never be allowed to touch the ground." How many of us have seen people putting the flag at half-mast without first raising it to the peak?

"When the flag is passing on parade, or in review, if you are walking, halt if it is being raised, stand at attention and uncover." This is a law which is only partly observed. Most of us know when the flag passes on parade whether we halt or not. Nevertheless, there are many who do not think it necessary if they are walking to stop and uncover when the flag passes in parade. "The flag should never be worn as the whole or part of a costume. As a badge it should be worn over the left breast. The flag should never be used as a festoon or draped. It should always be kept flat." The laws of the flag are violated every day in regard to using it for decorating purposes; the majority of us can remember instances in which we have seen the American flag draped and festooned as a decoration or even used to carry an advertisement.

The recent exposure in Lowell of some of the tricks that are commonly associated with spiritism manifestations recalls a happening of some years ago in Boston. There suddenly blossomed into the public view a man who claimed to be able to produce actual photographs of the spirits of the departed. He produced the photographs, too. Usually they would show the head and bust of a living person, but the faces were grouped around in the air would be the faces of relatives or friends whose forms were resting somewhere beneath the "mossy marbles." There was no doubt about the genuineness of the pictures insofar as likenesses were concerned. For the comparatively small sum of $50 or $100, or as much more as it seemed probable that a customer's purse could be made to give up, a portrait of a departed loved one, for instance, that would show a distinguished Bostonian, with a proclivity for delving about in the hidden places of metaphysics and psychical research, and over one shoulder might be the clearly discernible features of a father, while on the other side would be the portrait of a mother, both deceased, perhaps, for many years. Of course the gentleman who produced the remarkable pictures had a gold-mine in his possession almost equal in its capacity for producing riches to the one that Ponzi struck. Learned scientists investigated the matter, and admitted that they were stumped to find any explanation other than that given by the producer of the pictures that they were genuine spirit photographs. At last, however, the secret came out. It was such a simple matter. The "medium" had purchased several thousand old negatives from a leading photographer who had been taking pictures of leading Bostonians for 35 years. By a process that was far from being difficult, and that every photographer will understand, he transposed these likenesses onto plates containing the pictures of living sitters.

The question of where the new firehouse in the Highlands section will be located has been a subject of contention among the residents of that section and among officials of city hall. First one site has been favored, and then another, and many citizens have expressed their objection to having the Westford street house done away with at all. However, Commissioner Salmon has purchased the lot by the record books of the board of fire underwriters in the matter and has favored the site at the junction of Stevens and Pine streets as proposed by them. He will present his recommendation that this site be purchased to the city council at an early meeting. The question is now as to whether it lies within the province of the commissioner of the fire department or that of public property department to erect the house. Commissioner Marchand of the latter department has had a conference with a local architect on the matter but the plans have as yet been drawn, he says. He also characterizes as foolish the statement made last week that the house might be erected in 20 days. It will take a much longer time to do so, the commissioner points out.

SEVEN POSSES HUNT FOR ESCAPED "TRUSTIES"

OSISING, N. Y., Oct. 13.—Seven posses numbering more than 150 men, last night spread out over the country for several miles in the vicinity of Sing Sing prison, in search for George Silvers and Marcus Bassett, "trusties" who escaped Saturday night after killing three keepers and stealing an automobile from an Ossining resident.

Abandoning the first machine at Mount Kisco, N. Y., they stole another and since, according to reports received by prison officials yesterday, have been traveling about the country, dodging back and forth across the border between New York state and Connecticut, holding up motorists and compelling garage keepers at the point of a revolver to furnish them gasoline. Reports from different points the authorities said last night, indicated that the fugitives had covered more than 600 miles in the 24 hours following their escape.

Officials believe the men are armed with only one revolver. It was thought at first they obtained rifles from the guards whom they overpowered in one escape. One rifle, taken from a guard, was recovered by another, and yesterday all of the prison weapons except the revolver were accounted for. Before leaving the prison, the men cut the wires to the cell block rooms, preventing the officials from sending out descriptions of the convicts.

Another report was received by prison officials from New Milford, where they held up another garage keeper and obtained more gasoline.

They also appeared near Lakeville, Conn. None of the keepers assaulted by the prisoners were seriously injured. Prison officials said last night.

Silvers was known as one of the most dangerous criminals ever sent to Sing Sing. Although only 21 years old he was serving a life sentence for the murder of Policeman Samuel P. Cunningham in New York city in 1917. The death of the policeman was the climax of a 24-hour "spree" by Silvers. He stole his father's automobile and started out with a 13-year-old girl as companion. Wrecking the car, he stole Cunningham, but before he drew a gun and shot him. He smashed the second automobile in escaping, but with the girl evaded the police. Six months later he was captured and convicted of murder.

GOVERNOR COX WILL NOT COME TO LOWELL

Governor James M. Cox will not pass through Lowell tomorrow afternoon. This statement is in accordance with the latest information that is available regarding the candidate's plans. A change in the program that will bring the democratic leader to this city may be a whirlwind dash for the day's campaigning in a rally at Boston common at which Governor Cox will speak. It is possible that the speaking at character, and are changed to meet conditions as they arise.

The governor has been complaining lately of the heavy burden that has been placed upon him as a speaker by the democratic national committee, and he has protested once or twice that he was being asked to do more than his strength would permit him to accomplish.

Yesterday the candidate is reported to have had a full day's rest in Cleveland and today he is in New York state, speaking at Buffalo, Rochester and Syracuse.

During tonight his special train will run down through the Berkshire hills to Worcester, where he is scheduled to speak on the common tomorrow morning. From Worcester the train will take the candidate to Nashua, Manchester and Concord. Speeches are scheduled at the two last named places.

From Concord, the train is to return to Manchester and thence run over the Lawrence branch of the Boston & Maine to Lawrence, where Governor Cox will be dropped. The train proceeding on to Boston. The candidate will speak in Lawrence, and then, if plans are carried out, will be taken by automobile to Lynn for another speech.

For the benefit of Lowell people who may desire to see and hear Mr. Cox in Lawrence, it may be said that it is expected that he will be there somewhere between 3 and 4 o'clock in the afternoon.

From Lynn, Mr. Cox is scheduled to go to Cambridge and deliver an address before the students of Harvard university. Later in the evening there will be a whirlwind dash for the day's campaigning in a rally at Boston common at which Governor Cox will speak. It is possible that the speaking at Lynn and Cambridge may be omitted from the program.

Governor Cox is to spend Tuesday night in Boston, and leave early Wednesday morning for Providence, Hartford, Bridgeport and other Connecticut cities. The week's speaking is to close with one of the biggest rallies of the campaign in Madison Square garden Saturday night.

MANY CASES OF MEASLES REPORTED

Agent Francis J. O'Hare of the board of health reiterates his plea that parents call a doctor as soon as their children show any symptoms of having measles. During the past week there has been an increase in the number of cases of this disease reported at the health office and Agent O'Hare is anxious to call matters to a halt.

Thirty-one cases were reported last week as against 17 the week before. Parents have neglected to call a doctor and as a result many of the cases have developed into pneumonia. One death as a result of such complications was reported to the department this morning.

Most of the cases reported to the health authorities have been discovered by nurses of the health department, the Lowell guild or the Red Cross. Few parents have taken the initiative to report cases in their homes and as a result the disease continues to make headway.

BRITISH SPY TRAPPED

Story of Hardy's Plan for Assassination Plot to Trap Sinn Fein Leaders

The following story is condensed from a recent issue of the Freeman's Journal, Dublin, Ireland:

"A representative of the Freeman's Journal was privileged to be present on Thursday at a most dramatic and sensational exposure of a man who claimed to be an English secret service agent. A few days ago this man, whose name is Frank Hardy, approached Mr. Arthur Griffith, the president of Sinn Fein, and made sensational suggestions to him. He claimed to be employed by the British secret service, but professed to hate England and to be prepared to take any risks to help Sinn Fein. He offered to arrange to have the chief of the British secret service in Ireland to be at a lonely place unaccompanied."

"The Freeman's Journal representative found Mr. Griffith seated in a room with a number of well-known and distinguished representatives of English, French, American, Italian and French newspapers."

Our representative continues:

"Then Mr. Griffith explained the object of his invitation. He told how Hardy had made overtures to him and put forward certain sensational propositions. 'This man,' he said, 'admits he is in the English secret service, and offers to arrange for the presence of the secret service chief, Capt. Thompson, at a lonely point on Dun Loughaire pier. He will then leave him to be dealt with. He asked me to let him meet leaders of the movement, especially on the military side, and he is coming here this evening imagining that he is to meet some inner council of the Sinn Fein movement. I believe he is only one of a number of men acting as agents provocateurs throughout the country. I will let him tell you his own story, but I would ask the foreign gentlemen present not to speak much, lest the man's suspicions be aroused."

"Mr. Hardy, the spy who was waiting, was then brought in and told his story, stating that he had been imprisoned for aiding the Sinn Fein. He said he hated his own country, England, and was willing to do anything to help the Sinn Fein cause. He asked if anyone present were acquainted in Derry and being answered in the negative, he told of his aiding the Sinn Fein volunteers there and of being imprisoned for the part he had taken. He proposed to lead a high military official, Capt. Thompson, head of the secret service, unaccompanied to a lonely place at a certain time so that the Sinn Fein men might dispose of him as they pleased. He thought he was talking to the inner circle of the Sinn Fein.

"He also told them he could enable them to get Sir Edward Carson or Sir Isaac Greenwood if the leaders so desired."

"The newspaper men actually gasped at his proposition. Then Mr. Griffith got up with a newspaper clipping in hand and read Hardy's criminal record, showing him to be one of the most notorious thieves and forgers in all England. He had operated all over the British Isles and had been convicted about a score of times and sentenced to periods ranging from three months to seven years. He served two sentences of seven years and his last sentence was one of five years, passed in December, 1918, so that he must have been set at liberty for this particular line of service. His official criminal record filled nearly a column of a newspaper."

"Hardy thought he was trapping the Sinn Fein leaders in a murder plot but he himself was trapped. Mr. Griffith denounced him as a scoundrel in the pay of the government, a jail bird released for that purpose and warned him to leave Ireland by the first boat. He grew pale, trembled and in evident terror walked out of the room."

"Mr. Griffith, addressing the disgusted newspaper men, said 'you see what the government is doing to implicate Irishmen in murder plots and then have them murdered by the British and Tans,' made up also to a great extent of men released from prison."

LOWELL POLICE ARE HIGHLY COMMENDED

Supt. Redmond Welch and other members of the local police department are highly commended for their work in arresting Robert H. Hermanns, wanted on charges of counterfeiting. In a letter addressed to Gov. F. L. Thompson by Harry L. Barker, an official of the United States secret service.

The letter was received by His Honor today and reads as follows:

Dear Sir:—It is a source of pleasure to me to take this opportunity to bring to your attention the work of Chief Redmond Welch and the officers of his department in the recent arrest and conviction of Robert H. Hermanns, a much-wanted counterfeiter, who successfully evaded the efforts of the police of the larger cities to capture him.

This office has always had the cooperation of the police department of Lowell and I assure you that it is appreciated.

I am, very truly yours,
HARRY L. BARKER,
Operative in charge.

ARMISTICE BALL

The Armistice Ball, committee of the American Legion held a meeting yesterday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in the headquarters in Dutton street to further the plans for the second annual armistice ball to be held at the city hall on the evening of Nov. 10, under the auspices of the legion. Reports of the various committees were submitted and progress was announced on all hands. Tickets were distributed to the members present and it was announced this morning that several hundred have already been given out through the city. No tickets will be sent by mail this year. The ball will be marked by special features yet to be announced. There will be a grand march, before the grand march, Bachelors' overseas orchestra will furnish the music. The committees are as follows: Arthur O'Neil, decorating; Miss Clark, publicity; James Powers, financial; Arthur Moran, ladies' auxiliary; Arthur Bachelder, music; Benjamin Maloney, reception; Leo O'Grady, arrangements; John O'Grady, printing.

COUNCIL MEETING

Several matters of timely interest are scheduled to be brought for discussion at tomorrow's meeting of the municipal council. The selection of a site for a new firehouse in the Highlands, following several months' consideration and discussion, a decision as to whether the police in Lowell are to be kept open until 6 p. m. instead of 4 p. m. on state election day, and a possible formal request on the part of the council that the report of William B. Titmer, expert architect, to the high school commission, a copy of which is now in the hands of the charter commission, be made public, are among the items which the council may discuss at its meeting.

GRAND CIRCUIT RACES

ATLANTA, Ga., Oct. 18.—The 1220 grand circuit season will be brought to a close this week with the racing which opened today at Lakewood park. Four races were on today's program, the largest purse being $2500 for the three heat 205 race.

Demonstration in Whitehall are being made partially relieved the spirit of anxious uncertainty with which the British nation began work today. For the moment these reports seem to have greater basis in hope.

Men and Women

Women as well as men are made miserable by kidney and bladder trouble. Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney medicine, is highly recommended by thousands.

Swamp-Root stands the highest for the reason that so many people say it has proved to be just the remedy needed in thousands of even the most distressing cases.

At druggists in large and medium size bottles. You may receive a sample size bottle of Swamp-Root by parcel post, also a pamphlet telling you about it. Address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Birmingham, N. Y., and enclose ten cents. Also mention The Lowell Sun.—Adv.

Just wound up the one sweetest day of my life! Since early this morning, when I got an invitation to visit R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Co. factories, I've been in the midst of millions of Camel cigarettes. Yes sir, right from the rooms where the choice Turkish and choice Domestic tobaccos go into Camels unbeatable blend, straight through to the loading platforms where cases holding 10,000 Camels each are packed into car after car for shipping to every corner and cross roads in the U.S.A.!

Man—the happiest idea you or I ever had as to the size of this Reynolds enterprise, or the number of Camels manufactured daily, is simply piker-stuff! Wipe off the slate and start fresh! Why—Pete, it seemed to me like a couple of those cigarette-making machines could keep half the nation smoking Camels steadily—BUT—honest to goodness, there are hundreds of these machines ^{and} batting out Camels at the rate of 27,000 an hour—EACH!

And, Pete, you wouldn't have to consult a guide book to know you were in the Camel factories! The atmosphere is just charged with that wonderful aroma you get when you open up a deck of Camels! And, you know, old elephant—you've had a trunk full!

I stood by one of these machines, kind of fascinated. As the Camels dropped into the containers I figured the delight each one would supply! And, how Camels mellow, mild body would hit the right spot and how Camels refreshing flavor would cheer up some smoker's jaded appetite! And, each Camel free from any unpleasant cigarette aftertaste or unpleasant cigarette odor! And—

Pete—I'll have to lay off and light another Camel! Write you some more soon, old Camel-o-pard!

MANCHESTER HIGH DEFEATS LOWELL HIGH

In a well-fought game, the Lowell high school football team lost to Manchester high school by a score of 7 to 0, at Shattuck park Sunday afternoon. Throughout the entire Within its own territory, punter, Marston, kicked the ball and started a long end run that was stopped at the 10-yard line. O'Day dropped the runner. Manchester then threw a forward pass to the 20-yard line, but the ball was being off-side and with one minute to play and the ball near Lowell's 20-yard line, Manchester plunged down the field, the ball in his hands, with the ball on Lowell's 15-yard line.

In opening the second period both teams were in a back and forth in the shadow of Lowell's goal line. Lowell got through and caused a fumble by Manchester. Manchester was punting the ball to the 20-yard line and punter tried the ball through Lowell's line. Lowell punter kicked the ball down. Marston kicked the goal.

WINS AT FOOTBALL

Spectacular forward passes and general open play featured Lowell Tech's victory over the football clevelanders at the home of the city's agricultural school at Storrs, Conn., Sunday afternoon. The score was 14-0.

Displaying more speed than the "Azules," although their weights were heavier, the mill men captured the ball on the first play and drove it into the enemy territory at practically every place. Textile scored in the second quarter when William Cantor, a fullback, attacked and carried 10 yards. Two forwards and another

LONDON, Oct. 18.—A threat by the doctor at Brixton prison to feed Terence MacSwiney when he becomes unconscious, is reported in today's bulletin of the Irish Free-States Determinative League on the condition that the hunger striking lord mayor of Cork.

The doctor, according to the bulletin, has informed MacSwiney that his condition is becoming more and more precarious. The doctor is said to have said to MacSwiney: "I am bound to do all he can to save the lord mayor's life and will feed him as far as possible when the lord mayor becomes unconscious."

TO DECIDE IF HUNGER STRIKER IS SUICIDE

ROME, Oct. 15.—Pope Benedict, according to information secured yesterday, has referred the problem of the status of Lord Mayor MacSwiney of Cork and the other Irish hunger strikers to the congregation of the holy office.

Many urgent appeals to make some pronouncement regarding the case of the lord mayor of Cork and the other Irish hunger strikers have been received by the pope. These appeals are divided between opposite viewpoints, and implore the pontiff to render a decision on the question whether the death of the prisoners as a result of their hunger strikes would make them suicides.

Pope Benedict has carefully and personally examined all the many documents submitted to him citing examples and opinions intended to support the claims of the opposing sides and has discussed the situation with learned cardinals and other prominent figures in the church, but has found them holding divergent opinions.

He therefore has held the problem before the congregation of the holy office, which settles questions of faith and morals and judges heresy.

NOTICE TO PROPERTY OWNERS

You are hereby required on or before Dec. 1, 1920, to destroy the eggs and brownish moths on all your property in this city.

This notification is in accordance with Chapter 331, Act of 1905, as amended by Chapter 285, Act of 1906, which requires cities and towns to destroy the eggs, caterpillars, pupae and nests of the gypsy and brownish moths under heavy penalty for failure to comply with the provisions of the law.

If a property owner fails to destroy such eggs, caterpillars, pupae and nests, then the city or town is required to destroy the same, and the cost of the work, in whole or in part, according to the value of the land, is assessed upon and becomes a lien on the land.

Full instructions as to the best method of work against the moths may be obtained from the local superintendent, John E. Gordon, City Hall, or from the State Forester, Room 519, State House, Boston, Mass.

Work done by contractors should be inspected and approved by the local superintendent before payment for the same is made.

GEORGE E. MARCHANT, Commissioner of Public Property and Licenses.

FINED FOR RECEIVING STOLEN PROPERTY

For receiving 57 yards of cotton cloth valued at 32 cents per yard and also a spool of yarn valued at $2, alleged to have been stolen from the Massachusetts cotton mills, Angelina Buckowicz, an employee of the cardroom, pleaded guilty and was ordered to pay a fine of $5 in police court this morning. Miss Buckowicz, prosecuting officer, did not press the case for a heavy penalty because of the circumstances, but reported to the court that the officials of the mill have been troubled recently with petty thefts of cloth and yarn. The complaint was originally for larceny, but when the court learned that the defendant received the goods from another employee of the same room in the mill who has since left this country, it was changed to receiving stolen goods, to which the defendant entered a plea of guilty. Mr. O. J. Webster, assistant superintendent of the mills, was in court to identify the cloth and yarn.

Other offenders.

Louis Tremblay was fined $5 for being present at a game on the Lord's day on Tilden street.

Victor Douchaine entered a plea of guilty to carrying a revolver without a permit, but was continued until next Wednesday when the person from whom he bought the weapon will be called.

Charles Costas, charged with illegal sale of intoxicating liquor and with assault upon a police officer, did not appear in court to answer to the complaint and Assistant Clerk Toye declared him defaulted. Costas was in the hospital for one or two weeks after being arrested, but he was released some time ago.

When the non-support charge against Thomas J. Keilther was called the police reported that the defendant had been surrendered to Probation Officer Ramsay of the superior court. The case was continued.

The list of defaults this morning included a large number of old offenders. Probation Officer Slattery issued releases to several first offenders, and three of the cases called in court were placed on file.

For drunkenness Michael Burke was fined $15; Joseph Brown, now under a suspended sentence to the state farm, was fined $15. James McGrade was given a suspended sentence to the state farm and put on probation. George Savagau was fined $15. John P. Murphy was sentenced to two months in the house of correction. Coleman McGraw pleaded guilty to drunkenness and was fined $10.

Margaret Bulmer pleaded guilty to drunkenness and was put on probation. Mr. John Bulmer was sentenced to the house of correction.

WANTS TO INCREASE FARES

PITTSFIELD, Oct. 15.—The Berkshire Street Railway Co. has petitioned the public utilities department for authority to increase its fares from five to six cents, the zones to remain as at present, except on the branch line from the railroad station in Lenox to the business section where it is proposed to increase the fare to 10 cents.

A recent advance in wages and the high cost of fuel and material is given as the basis for the proposed fare increase.

Healthy Young Womanhood

THE tendency to constipation begins with girls as they approach maturity, and that is the very time when mothers should watch that the important function of daily elimination is regular and normal. Many thousands of mothers who have daughters will tell you they give only Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. A teaspoonful is sufficient to relieve constipation and all commoner symptoms such as headache, biliousness, loss of appetite and restlessness.

Syrup Pepsin is a compound of Egyptian Senna and other simple laxative herbs with pepsin and pleasant-tasting aromatics, and a sixty-cent bottle is enough for many months. Eight million bottles were bought at drug stores last year, the largest sale of the kind in the world. Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin has been on the market thirty years and there must be genuine merit behind it to develop so large and steady a sale. Buy a bottle today and you will quickly see why it is so popular.

DANCING PARTY

The United States Bunting employees have completed all arrangements for their eighteenth dancing party in Association hall next Friday night. The committee in charge has received the best music in the city for the event and from all reports it will be a highly successful affair. The Bunting employees. The election of officers took place last Friday evening and the following were elected: Floor marshal, Miss Mary Mahan; assistant floor marshal, Miss Anna Powers; child, Miss Minnie Lynch; treasurer, Miss Zelma Dowd; secretary, Miss Mae Carroll.

AMERICAN LEGION BOWLERS.

The officers of the local post of the American Legion are doing all in their power to have the post represented by a strong bowling team for the remainder of the season. Already 11 men have signed up for the league, but there are a great many more good bowlers in the organization. Edward H. Sullivan, Joseph Connelley, Raymond Corkery, Joe Santilli and Bill H. Hart have issued a challenge to any bowling team that the legion will organize in the near future.

MINE FORCE TO START ON CRUISE

Notice was received at the local navy recruiting station this morning to the effect that the active units of the mine force of the Atlantic fleet will start on an extensive cruise during January and early spring. The ships comprising the force are the U.S.S. Hancock, U.S.S. Murray, U.S.S. Stanton, U.S.S. Mather, U.S.S. Lark. The cruise will start at Hampton Road, Va., then the units will go to Guantanamo, Cuba, thence to Base Terro, St. Christopher, thence to St. John's, Antigua; Point A. Elise, Guadalupe; Port of Spain, St. Lucia, Kingston, Jamaica; Port of Spain, Trinidad; Willemstad, Curacao, Colon, Canal zone. The force will then join the Atlantic fleet at Balboa. Later, mining exercises and practice will be staged and at Guantanamo, Cuba, the most athletic events will be staged. After the athletic events the force will steam to North River, N. Y., when the crews will be given two weeks' leave of absence.

Chief Joseph Crepeau is ready to step up any men desirous of taking this cruise. Men upon the inactive list of the reserve force are eligible to join.

The station reports the following enlistments: Jack Russell Roberts, 411 Vermont avenue, as hospital apprentice; Raymond St. Amant, 72 Meadow road, electrical school; Leslie Sanders, 11 Russell road, Winchester, for machinist's mate.

GETS PERMIT TO ALTER FIREHOUSE

The former Westford street firehouse at the junction of Westford and Lane streets, which was sold by the city to Underwriter George W. Healey several months ago, is to be thoroughly remodeled by Mr. Healey at an estimated expense of $12,000, according to a permit issued today at the office of the building inspector at city hall. Additions to the front and rear of the first story of the building will be built. The first floor will be changed over for use as a chapel and undertaking rooms and in the rear will be a garage. The second story is to be made over into two tenements of five rooms each with baths. Each will have side and rear exits.

RIGHTS AND DUTIES OF CITIZENSHIP

A very interesting lecture on the rights and duties of Catholic citizenship was delivered by Rev. S. F. Turner of the Mission Church, Rosbury, as the feature of the program offered to members and friends of the Young Men's Catholic Institute in the rooms of the organization in Stackpole street last evening. Between four and five hundred people were present. Other speakers included Rev. Lawrence P.

Too Weak to Do Anything

The ordinary every-day life of most women is a ceaseless treadmill of work. How much harder the tasks become when some derangement peculiar to her sex makes every movement painful, and keeps the nervous system all unstrung until life seems hardly worth living. Every women in this condition should profit by the experience of these two women whose letters follow.

Read the Experience of These Two Women

Reading, Pa.—"I had organic inflammation, pains in the side and back which were so sharp that they pulled me to my knees, and I could not walk. I had an operation and still I failed, and in the eight years I suffered I had four doctors and none helped me. My mother-in-law advised me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I was then in bed, and after the first bottle I could be out of bed, then I took Vegetable Compound Tablets and Lydia E. Pinkham's Blood Medicine and also used the Sanative Wash. I still take the medicine and am able now to do my own housework. My friends say, 'My! but you look well'—what do you do? Who is your doctor?' And there is only one answer, 'Lydia E. Pinkham's medicines which I gladly recommend.'—Mrs. W. M. STEIN, 560 Douglas Street, Reading, Pa.

Gainesville, Tex.—"For three years I suffered untold agony each month with pains in my side. I found only temporary relief in doctor's medicine or anything else I took until my husband and I saw an advertisement of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I mentioned it to a neighbor and she told me she had taken it with good results, and advised me to try it. I was then in bed part of the time, and my doctor said I would have to be operated on, but we decided to try the Vegetable Compound, and I also used Lydia E. Pinkham's Sanative Wash. I am a dressmaker and am now able to go about my work, and do my housework besides. You are welcome to use this letter as a testimonial as I am always glad to speak a word for your medicine."—Mrs. W. M. STEPHENS, 202 Harvey St., Gainesville, Texas.

Ailing Women Should Not Experiment—But Insist Upon

NEWS FROM DRACUT

Registration of men and women voters for the coming state election in the town of Dracut is far below what it should be. There are about 350 women and 525 men voters on the list. The men and of these numbers only 100 women had registered and about 25 men up to last night. At the registration session in the town office, Dracut Center, during this afternoon the registrars expected to sign up the greatest number since they started their work. So far, however, the men have been obliged to hire extra clerks, but when the "next-to-the-last-minute" rush starts, such a thing is a possibility. There will be two more sessions to register, one at McManmon's in Kenwood on Oct. 19, the other at the town office, Dracut Center, on Oct. 23, the last day for registration of voters in towns according to the law of the state.

The majority of farmers of the Dracut section are now steadily employed themselves and have put to work whatever help they could get, in digging potatoes. From many of them comes the report that the potato crop hereabouts, in the Dracut section at least, will be the best since the war. The Kenwood section this is particularly true, because much of the land there is low and there has been considerable heavy rain. Whether or not these conditions would have any great effect upon the Lowell market or whether they were similar in other surrounding towns, the farmers could not say. Loss in the crop strikes the farmers hard because at the time of planting seed potatoes were very high. Mr. James McManmon of Kenwood has had good luck, so far, however, with potatoes, because part of his land is high, but mainly because he planted a new potato, "Richie's Answer," recommended by the county bureau as free from disease. "Richie's Answer" is a New York potato, not known in this section of the country, but Mr. McManmon during the planting season determined to experiment. He reports that the results have been very satisfactory and that his crops are free from rot, as guaranteed by the county bureau of agriculture. At the present time on the McManmon farm there is a gang of 15 men digging potatoes with the aid of a digging machine. It is said that there is more crop being made this year than ever before, because of the large amount of windfall apples within the last two or three weeks. A short crop of No. 1 apples is expected.

Other News Items

Miss Anna Gregory, formerly of Bradford, Mass., is now supervisor of music in the Dracut, Tyngsboro, Newbury and North Reading sections, having been recently elected by the school committee. Miss Gregory has had experience as a music supervisor in other schools in the state. The entire re-building of the chimney of the Collinsville school has just been completed. The chimney had not been repaired since the construction of the school, but it was found necessary recently because it was a danger to safety and rain also leaked in at its base.

The work of the park department, Thomas Carrick supervisor, at the present time consists of spraying all low bushes and trees with creosote to kill moth eggs and tree lice. The supervisor is assisted in his work by one helper. Carrick has received great praise for the condition of the eight parks of the town during the spring and summer seasons.

Mr. and Mrs. Francis Audette of York street, Kenwood, will hold a house warming party at their home this evening. All kinds of entertainment will be provided, including dancing, band music, games and vocal selections. Refreshments will be served.

BIG SHIRT FACTORY MAY LOCATE HERE

If a conference between George F. Wells, secretary-manager of the Lowell chamber of commerce, and G. L. Haskell, representing the Klean Kuff Shirt Co., which was to have been held late this afternoon, results favorably, there will be established in Lowell one of the largest shirt factories in the world.

Mr. Gaskill and a corps of assistants have been in Lowell for the past few days looking over sites. Here and Mr. Gaskill said this afternoon several had been pointed out that appealed to him and his associates. However, there are also inducements to locate at Paterson, N. J., he said, and the choice lies between that city and Lowell. If the plant is established here it will mean the eventual employment of 6000 people, it was stated. The Klean Kuff Co. manufactures a new style shirt having a double set of cuffs.

AMERICANIZATION MEETING

There was a large attendance at the Americanization meeting which was held yesterday in the basement of the Greek Orthodox church in Jefferson street. The meeting was presided over by Peter Souffis, principal of the Greek parochial school, and the speakers were William N. Goodell, president of the chamber of commerce; Hugh J. Molloy, superintendent of schools; and Thomas B. Delaney, chairman of the school board.

Engineer Fatally Scalded in Wreck

LOWELL, N. J., Oct. 18.—Edward Quail, engineer of a Pennsylvania railroad passenger train bound from Philadelphia to New York was fatally scalded today in a wreck. The train ran into the rear of a freight during a fog and the passenger engine was overturned. Traffic on the main line was interrupted several hours.

DEATHS

KELLEY—After an illness of but a few months, Miss Katherine E. Kelley, for a long period a valued member of the teaching staff at the Butler grammar school, passed away at the home of her brother, Edward Kelley, in Beverly, yesterday morning. Her death will be widely mourned not only by a legion of friends but by a host of pupils who in her praiseworthy career as a teacher for 27 years, had passed under her careful, refining influence. As an instructor she gave a full measure of devotion, and her pupils, their aims, their hopes and their aspirations. Personally, she was a most lovable character, gentle, kind and devoted to those with whom she came in contact. She never failed to cheer and to edify. With an intelligent vision and equipped with a natural aptitude for study and the enabling of others to do the same, she seemed to have possessed her, and often she planned diligently for the comfort and enlightenment of her pupils. In the curriculum of the school, but in ever so many little essentials that showed that her whole nature was bound up in her devotion to the education of her pupils.

For almost four decades a teacher in one of the largest elementary schools of this city, in that period of years she had contributed abundantly to the molding of character of the lives of hundreds of young men and women, and her compensation in this regard she never felt was far greater in the lives of these young people, who, after years, than any that might be measured by mere monetary reward. She was a valued member of the executive committee of the Lowell Teachers' association, an active member since its inception of the League of Catholic Women, a member of the Middlesex Women's club and treasurer of the Lowell school branch of the Red Cross.

PAQUIN—Edward Paquin died Saturday evening at his home, 1 Racine place, at the age of 63 years. He leaves his wife, Mrs. Mary Paquin, and three children, Miss Alice Paquin, Miss Annette Paquin, Albert and Conrad Paquin; three brothers, John of Lowell, Simon and Theophile Paquin of Canada, and two sisters, Mrs. Samuel Marotte and Miss Edmunde Paquin, both of Canada.

TROWBES—James Trowbes, a resident of this city for the last 40 years, died Saturday evening at the Cleveland Street hospital at the age of 74 years, 6 months and 13 days. His body was removed to Saunders' funeral home, 211 Appleton street.

CARD OF THANKS

We, the undersigned, desire publicly to thank our many friends and neighbors for their acts of kindness and expressions of sympathy during our hour of affliction; also for the many beautiful floral tributes. We deeply appreciate the kindly efforts to lighten our burden of sorrow and we will ever hold them dear and all in loving remembrance.

MISS CARRIE L. BROWN,
ARTHUR J. BROWN,
MRS. ARTHUR E. BAGSHAW.

STREETS IN BAD SHAPE

Of a total of 153.37 miles of streets in Lowell, 14.65 miles, or 9.5 per cent, are in very poor condition, according to a survey which has been prepared by the chamber of commerce under the direction of President William N. Goodell, and which was to have been presented to the committee on streets and highways at a meeting late this afternoon. The meeting was called to consider possible recommendations for the improvement of the city's thoroughfares.

AN HONEST MAN

Diogenes need no longer keep his lantern aflame, for his long-sought honest man has at last been found in Lowell. He is James Moran of Appleton street, an elderly man of limited means, who found a $100 Liberty bond belonging to an elderly lady living at 503 School street, and through an advertisement in The Sun, Saturday, was able to restore the security to its anxious owner. She, in turn, rewarded him for his honesty and feels that he should be publicly commended for his action. Had he been dishonest, she would have suffered a serious loss.

SUN BREVITIES

Best printing, Tobin's Associates side Fire and Liability Insurance. Daniel J. O'Brien, Wynne's Exchange.

Correspondent J. O'Neil took out nomination papers today from the office of the election commissioners as a candidate for alderman.

Prince Collier Co., Jewelers, successors to M. F. Wood, are showing a beautiful line of wedding gifts.

The second of a series of ladies' nights under the auspices of the State Temperance Institute will be staged in the rooms of the Institute in Central street tomorrow night. All lady friends of the members are invited to attend.

Mr. and Mrs. Leo Hindle entertained a score or more guests from this city and out of town Saturday evening at their home, 42 West Fourth street, upon the occasion of their first wedding anniversary. An enjoyable program of entertainment was carried out and refreshments were served. Mr. and Mrs. Hindle were the recipients of many useful gifts and were wished many more years of wedded happiness.

James Joseph Cox of this city, who is now on the inactive list of the naval reserve force, visited the local navy recruiting station this morning and related some of his experiences on board the U.S.S. Frederick which took the navy athletes to the Olympic games. Cox signed up for the two months' trip on the Frederick as a seaman, second class. On the return to this country the ship visited Russia, Germany, Sweden and Norway. While overseas the crew of the Frederick was allowed 10 days' leave in Paris and five days' leave in London.

Frank J. Finnegan, manager of the circulation department of The Sun, and Mrs. Finnegan are spending the present week in New York city.

MATRIMONIAL

The marriage of Mr. Alden Wood Sherman of this city and Miss Matrine Moseley of Arlington took place Saturday evening at St. John's Episcopal church of Arlington, the ceremony being performed by Rev. Charles Taber Hall. The maid of honor was Miss Rosemary Wood of Hudson, N. Y., while the bridesmaid was Miss Allen Devereaux and Miss Dorothy Moseley of Arlington. Miss Leslie Pullen of this city and Miss Margaret S. Traub of Port Thomas, Kentucky. Mr. Frederick Spaulding of New York acted as best man. The ushers were Robert Cushman of this city, General Henderson of Wayland, Harry Sutton of Quincy and Edward Woodward of Lowell. The couple will make their home at 12 Chester street, this city.

Crawford—Nix
Mr. Robert M. Crawford and Miss Florence Nix were married Saturday evening at the home of the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Crawford, 24 Highland avenue. The best man was Mr. Finley M. Gray, while the bridesmaid was Miss Elizabeth Crawford, a niece of the groom. After Nov. 10 the couple will make their home at 24 Highland avenue.

Brown—Redway
Mr. Charles D. Brown of Salem, a graduate of Bowdoin college, and Miss Kathryn B. Redway, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles B. Redway of this city, a graduate of Rogers hall and Smith college and well known in local social circles, were married at St. Anne's church Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock. Rev. Appleton Grannis officiated. The church was decorated with gladioli, white carnations and palms. The church organists, William C. Heller, played the usual wedding marches. The bride was given away by her father. She was attended by her sister, Miss Frances Redway, as maid of honor, and by five bridesmaids, Messrs. Barbara Brown and Mary Hodson of Lowell, Miss Alva Brown of Salem, a sister of the bridegroom; Miss Marion Redway of Iton, N. Y., a cousin; and Miss Virginia Harrison of Columbus, Ohio. Mr. A. H. C. Brown of Salem, brother of the bridegroom, was best man and the ushers were Messrs. Albert Redway, brother of the bride; Roger Eastman of Lowell; Dicot Brown of Salem, brother of the bridegroom; John Whitmore and Robert Seamans of Salem and Joseph Woodruff of Springfield. The bride wore her mother's wedding dress of white satin with trimmings and veil of lace and carried a bouquet of bouvardia swansons. Immediately after the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, 33 Mansur street. The home was prettily decorated.

Gosselin—Dubois

A pretty marriage took place this morning at St. Louis church, when Mr. Anthony Gosselin and Miss Dora L. Dubois, two well known people of this city, were united in the bonds of matrimony. The ceremony was performed at 8 o'clock by Rev. E. J. Vincent. During the mass appropriate hymns were sung by the Children of Mary society choir. Miss Ida Mongrain presiding at the organ. The bride was attired in white baronet with veil caught up with pearls and carried a shower bouquet of bridal roses. She was attended by Miss Theresa Shark.

WALTER E. GUYETTE Auctioneer

Office, 33 Central Street, Lowell, Mass. Telephone 2415.

Administrator's sale at public auction of the estate of Catherine F. Cusack, late of Lowell, deceased, consisting of two cottage houses, and about seven and one-half acres of land situated in South Lowell, Mass., at Nos. 234-260 Woburn street, also lot of 7650 square feet adjoining the above and fronting on Circuit avenue, the same to be sold all in one lot to the highest bona fide bidder, at absolute and unrestricted public sale, on SATURDAY, THE 23rd DAY OF OCT., 1920, AT 3:30 O'CLOCK P. M.

By virtue of a license granted to me by the Probate Court, I will sell to whomever will bid the most the above situated properties, comprising two cottage houses, and a lot of seven and one-half acres and a lot of 7650 square feet of land, in one lot.

The cottage at No. 234 Woburn street has six rooms, three rooms on the first floor, of parlor, dining-room, and kitchen, and three chambers on the second floor. The house is supplied with gas throughout, and has city water. In the rear of the building is a shed and henery. At No. 260 Woburn street is a two-story dwelling and stable. The house has eight good bedrooms, has gas throughout, and city water. There are reception hall, parlor, dining-room with china closet, kitchen, pantry and one bedroom on the first floor, and four pleasant chambers on the floor above.

The lot of seven and one-half acres has a frontage on Woburn street of 302 feet, more or less, and a depth of about 1620 feet. The land is well situated for use as a city farm, or could easily be sub-divided, and sold as building lots, and its location directly on the electric car line, and being but a single car fare, close to church, school, etc., gives it an added value for future improvement; it is within a very short distance of a considerable real estate development, and this section is regarded and is known particularly as a home locality.

The lot adjoining contains 7650 square feet, has a frontage on Circuit avenue of 90 feet, and a depth of 55 feet. This lot adjoins the building at No. 234 Woburn street, and its dimensions make it a splendid building lot and is situated within half a minute's walk of Woburn street, and is in a neighborhood where about everyone owns their own home.

This sale should especially attract all classes interested in real estate, the home-seeker, the investor, and the speculator. The properties are rented and can be made most attractive with a small outlay, and also with the large tract of land, it can be used by investor or speculator, by subdivision, and erection of homes, which will receive a ready market, and for the home-seeker, the chance to occupy one dwelling, and rent the other, and use the large area for farm purposes, if he so chooses.

TERMS: $400 must be paid to the auctioneer just as soon as the property is struck off. Other terms made known at sale.

By order of John J. O'Connell, Administrator, of the Estate of Catherine F. Cusack.

OFFICE, 162 MARKET STREET, LOWELL, MASS.

TUESDAY, OCTOBER 19, 1920, AT 3 P. M.

By order of the Commissioner of Public Property and Licenses, I shall sell at public auction for the City of Lowell, the land known as the Bartlett school site, containing 10,000 square feet of land, more or less. It has a frontage of about 100 feet on Clark street and about 100 feet on Hancock avenue.

This lot of land, situated in the center of a residential section, facing the North common, and with its large frontage on two streets will make a good building site, and ought to be very attractive to investors.

Per order GEORGE E. MARCHAND, Commissioner of Public Property and Licenses.
